Groups want prompt court sewer action

Convinced that at least three-fourths of those needing sanitary sewers in Area One (major areas of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice Townships) actively desire that the sewers be installed, area service organizations are going on record as urging prompt court resolution of the issue.

Madison County officials who planned the sewer project have secured massive state and federal financial help to go along with a general obligation bond issue, provided that they proceed expeditiously with the sewer installation.

Ten residents have filed suit against the sewer project and the preparations are being slowed pending a judicial hearing and decision.

Citizens who favor the sewers as vital for economic resurgence and for the provision of new housing are organizing and may seek to intervene in the case, it was learned.

Madison County special sewer committee members this week said they have given up hopes of having sanitary sewers funded this fiscal year in Areas Two and Three, State Park Place and the Eagle Park Acres-Cloverleaf-East Madison area.

They have turned all their attention toward funding the local share of sewers for Area One, which includes Mitchell and Pontoon Beach.

Sewer Committee Chairman Walter "Dick" Sparks told the Press-Record that hopes for funding the Areas Two and Three projects in the near future have not been dropped, but noted, "I see no way we can possibly find some means of funding the program in those areas before the Environmental Protection Agency's grant offer expires Sept. 1."

Sparks also said he does not envision the EPA extending its grant offer beyond the Sept. 1 date, adding, "We were told directly in Springfield Monday that there already are communities in the state which have raised their share of con-

City starting major break repair task

The Granite City street department's new sewer division will begin its first major sanitary sewer repair job Monday, City Council members were told Tuesday night.

The job will involve the replacement of approximately 350 feet of eight-inch sanitary sewer line in the 1500 block of Pontoon Road, between Mitchell Avenue and North Street, according to Street Superintendent Lionel Portell.

The sewer break at that location is listed among the city's major sewer break problems and has existed for more than a year, Portell noted. Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the council's Street and Alley Committee, told the council that the Pontoon Road sewer break is one of two major breaks which sewer workers believe can be repaired without dewatering problems, although Monroe Brewer, city engineer, said the line to be replaced is about 11 feet deep.

Plan Newport area activities

The Newport Homecoming Association will celebrate its sixth annual homecoming on Sept. 4, 5 and 6, with the hub of activities at Lee Park in Venice.

A spirited interest in Madison, Venice, Eagle Park and Kerr Island, which make up the organization, indicate overflow crowds will attend the three-day celebration, according to David Barrett, who is organizing the homecoming program.

The homecoming will begin with a kick-off parade on Saturday, Sept. 4, at 10 a.m. The parade will be made up of bands, floats, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, equestrians, marching and mechanized units.

The Madison and Venice Fire Departments will enter several pieces of their equipment. Also entered will be Pete Plantz's antique units. Special feature of the parade will be units of the Aahanes and Medians Shriners.

The parade route will be south on Selb from Fox Industrial Park to Market Street, west on Market to Meredocia, north on Meredocia to Douglas, west on Douglas to Weaver, south on Weaver to Jackson, west on Jackson, make the loop through West Madison to Klein Street to (Continued on Page 7)

On and off the record Multiple choice on candidates

Former Presidential hopeful George Wallace used to say there wasn't "a dime's worth of difference" between the political stands taken by the Democratic and Republican parties. He and others agree that isn't the case this year; there are visible choices to be made in considering various candidates.

The Republican platform accepted by President Gerald Ford calls for a Constitutional amendment on the abortion issue.

Jimmy Carter, Democratic nominee, reiterated this week that he personally is against abortions but does not favor an amendment, however, he in-

AMERICAN STEEL PLANT EXPANSION. Hundreds of bolsters for railroad freight cars trucks undergo final operations and inspection in the new bolster finishing building at the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City. The facility has equipment to machine, weld, paint, band and ship the bolsters, which weigh over 1,200 pounds apiece.

Expansion completed

Production capacity has been increased more than 25 per cent at the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City following completion of a multi-million-dollar expansion project.

The plant now has the capacity to produce side frames and bolsters for 37,000 railroad freight cars per year.

ASF, an operating unit of AMSTED Industries, Chicago, is the nation's largest producer of cast steel side frames and bolsters for freight cars trucks.

"We are in a position now to handle the peak requirements the railroads may have," ASF president Carl O. Sundberg told the Press-Record on Wednesday.

The expansion project also has increased the firm's ability to produce Grade C steel castings which have a higher tensile strength than Grade B.

During the past few years, Grade C has become increasingly popular as railroads build more large-capacity freight cars.

ASF are in a very favorable competitive position at this time, because we have the facilities to maximize our Grade C capacity production," the Granite City plant's works manager, M. B. Miloski, said. The primary expansion occurred in the plant's cleaning and finishing and core departments, including the construction of a 30,000-square-foot building for bolster finishing. The new bolster building meets federal health and safety standards and is completely enclosed with acoustical paneling. It contains two lathes to machine the center plates of bolsters, two automatic welders, painting equipment, a banding machine and a shipping dock with overhead crane. It also has facilities for inspection and grinding. In the main plant cleaning and finishing department, a conveyorized shot peening and cleaning unit was installed, an additional heat-treating furnace

Chouteau town hall bids above estimate

Bids 33 per cent higher than anticipated for construction of a new Chouteau Township community center and town hall building were opened by the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors Monday night and are to be studied by the board, the architect and the township's Community Development committee.

While officials had anticipated the building would cost about $140,000 to construct, low bids for the building, heating, cooling, plumbing and electrical work totaled $187,291.

John Rapp, architect, was instructed to review the bids and his designs and attempt to find ways to change the building plans so the construction cost can be reduced to a total closer to the township's estimate.

A special meeting was called for 9 a.m. Saturday at the Township office, 825 Thorngate Drive, for the board and Community Development committee to discuss the bids with Rapp.

The township plans to use a combination of federal revenue and Community Development grant funds to construct the building at no direct cost to the taxpayers.

Bids opened Monday night included five for general construction with Meredith Wilson Co., Bethalto, low bidder at $140,000.

Other general construction bids were from R&R Contractors, Edwardsville, $149,450; Joe Wilson Co., Godfrey, $142,990; G. H. Sternberg Co., Granite City, $154,166; Ed Moore Construction, Granite City, $154,776; and Systems Builders, Edwardsville, $175,225.

Heating and cooling bids showed Spireff Heating and Cooling of Granite City was lowest at $15,841. Other bids were from Granite Sheet Metal, Granite City, $17,690; Triangle Heating, Granite City, $16,553; France Plumbing, $15,900; and Modern Plumbing, $19,900.

Two companies bid on electrical work with Wegman Electric low bidder at $20,450. Rite Electric of Granite City bid $20,520.

There also were only two bids received for plumbing work of which Modern Plumbing was low at $11,000. France Plumbing bid $11,542.

Cyclist dies

William Thomas Carney, 33, of 201 Wilson Park Lane, died at 4:40 p.m. Monday of head injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident near Collinsville Sunday.

He was riding with friends on private property a half-mile west of Keeler Road north of Interstate 70 when his trail bike went out of control and plunged down a 30-foot embankment.

His head, which was not protected by a helmet, struck the rocks below, according to friends. James Schackelford, 2435 Hemlock Ave., who was riding with Mr. Carney, said he did not see the accident, but found Mr. Carney at the bottom of the embankment.

Early religious movements

(98th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

While located primarily in Utah, Mormons also populate and conduct services in the Madison-St. Clair Counties area.

And their historical links to Illinois are extensive.

For 20 years, Nauvoo, Ill., was the center of two experiments in religious and political communalism—one involving the Mormons and the other related to the Learians.

Mormonism was nine years old when its members fled Illinois from riots in 1839. Enthusiasm within the group ran high, and by 1842 Hancock County counted 16,000 Mormons in the vicinity of Nauvoo.

The Mormons revised the traditional separation of church and state.

Under an extraordinary charter granted by a legislature fully appreciative of their political power, they presided over their own courts and maintained a military force (the Nauvoo Legion) second in size only to the U.S. Army.

Mormon Prophet Joseph Smith, according to a historian, became "mayor and chief magistrate as well as lieutenant general, newspaper editor, real estate promoter and bankrupt businessman."

year project which started in April of this year following Illinois Environmental Protection Agency authorization. M. H. Wolfe is the general contractor.

A taxicab driver and his passenger were injured when their taxi struck a parked pickup truck, ran over a stop sign and struck the parked car of Marcia Walker, 2201 State St., at 22nd and State streets at 2:20 a.m. Tuesday.

The driver of the taxi, Thomas Wood Jr., 29, Columbia, Ill., was charged with driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and destruction of city property.

Nameoki park nearing completion

The Madison County Education and Recreation Committee reports that work is progressing rapidly on Madison County Park number eight, formerly called Whitsell Park, located between Stallings and Pontoon Beach in Nameoki Township.

Keeley Brothers Contracting Co. donated the seven and one-half acre tract of land to the county through the request of Louis Whitsell, supervisor of Nameoki Township.

In 1953, when the viaduct was constructed over the railroad tracks of Highway 111, near Route 162, this tract of land was used as a borrow pit and has been a swamp since.

"We have designed a method of draining the swamp through canalization and detention areas, which will allow the overflow to travel by gravity to Horseshoe Lake," Whitsell, committee chairman, noted.

"With the help of the Nameoki Township Summer Youth Program, Manpower Program and the County Parks Department, the park is beginning to take shape," he said.

"Our goal is to install picnic and playground equipment, which will allow the park to also serve as a rest stop for the Madison County Bicycle and Nature Trail, which passes on the south side.

"Since Madison County has a very low budget for parks, it has been, and will be in the future, a difficult task to develop parks in our county. Other services must have priority.

"However, we have dedicated individuals who are determined to beg and borrow to see that parks are developed in our county.

"Parks in our county were nonexistent until 1972, when I, and Wayne Bridgewater and Anthony Bostich of Wood River, dedicated our efforts to development of parks," he added.

The county now has parks in Bethalto, Carpenter Road, Mitchell, Wood River, Edwardsville, the Nature Trail and the Nike Base, and park number eight will be in Nameoki Township.

"We are constantly searching for additional free land or waste land, which will prove to be valuable to the public in the near future, when this open space becomes hard to find," Whitsell concluded.

NEW PARK taking shape on the east side of Route 111 north of Route 162 by the viaduct will be known temporarily as Madison County Park Number Eight. Formerly designated Whitsell Park after Louis Whitsell, parks committee chairman, that name has not been used since the park's identification sign disappeared. This drawing by the parks committee uses arrows to show the planned drainage in the park.

National officers to visit Eagles Aerie 1126 Tuesday

Top national leaders of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and Auxiliary will be entertained Tuesday evening at Granite City Aerie 1126, located at 2538 Madison Ave., it was announced this week.

Clyde Schmieg of St. Paul, Minn., is the Eagles new grand worthy president. He will be accompanied here by Mrs. Verna Funke of Toledo, Iowa, grand president of the Eagles Auxiliary.

Both national officers were installed and assumed their duties about one month ago at the Eagles' national convention at Miami Beach, Fla. Delegates from the local aerie attended the annual meeting.

Called a "Grand Presidents' Pep Rally," the evening here will include a potluck buffet supper at 6:30 and entertainment by the Eagles' Kitchen Band.

Remarks will be made by the guests of honor.

About 150 members and guests are expected to greet the new national officers.

Robert Stanton, Eagles Aerie 1126 president, and Mrs. Ruth Paul, Eagles Auxiliary 1126 president, will preside.

Announcement of Tuesday's visit here was made jointly by George Mathenia, Eagles District 7 president, Helen Frazier, District 7 Auxiliary president, both of Granite City, and the local aerie officials.

Representatives of the Illinois Eagles and Auxiliary and Zone 3 officers also have indicated they will attend, Stanton said.

Zone 3 encompasses an area of Illinois from Litchfield to Carbondale.

Members of the local Eagles organization will provide dessert and salad dishes for the buffet supper, with the lodge furnishing the meat course, Stanton advised. More than one dish may be donated, he added, due to the large number of guests expected.

Mrs. Funke and Schmieg made official visits at three Illinois aeries during the past weekend. They were honored at Galesburg 518, Decatur 507 and Joliet 377.

Registration for fall program at Y

"The YMCA today is a family affair," Harold Rudolph, executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA said in announcing plans for the beginning of the fall program on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

"Gone are the days when the YMCA was primarily for men and boys only," he said. "Today, nearly 35 per cent of our members are women and girls."

"Nowadays, outside of the family pet, just about the whole family can find something to suit their taste here."

The something for everyone concept encompasses a wide range of programs that includes swimming, Youth Basketball Association leagues, judo, dancing, scuba diving and soccer, Rudolph said.

"The trend toward total family involvement is a nationwide phenomenon for the YMCA," Rudolph added. "Of the 6,604,807 registered YMCA members in the United States last year, 2,105,673 were women and girls, 34 per cent of the total. And a steadily increasing number of YMCAs are enrolling members under some type of family plan. A total of 1,184,058, representing 28 per cent of all registered members, enrolled in this way in 1975."

Rudolph said that across the U. S., as well as here, physical programs are still the most popular of all "Y" programs.

"With the launching of the new national cardiovascular program, there will be still further emphasis on physical programs geared toward health maintenance for the healthy, and toward early disease detection and therapy," he said.

"The cardiovascular program is expected to be reaching eight million people by 1980."

Registration for fall program activities at the "Y" begins Monday, Aug. 30, and will continue until classes start on Tuesday, Sept. 7. For more information, Quad-Cityans may contact the "Y" at 876-2200. The "Y" is a United Way agency.

CB radio team plans annual 'coffee break'

The Citizens Band Emergency Radio Team (CEBERT), a volunteer group associated with the Granite City Civil Defense and area law enforcement agencies, reviewed plans for its annual "Coffee Break," set Sunday, Oct. 17, at a meeting this week.

Twenty-eight members met at the CC Civil Defense Center, 1411 Nineteenth St., with Jesse Levart, CEBERT president, in charge.

The fall coffee break will take place at the VFW Hall, 2044 Washington Ave., starting in the afternoon. Variety acts will be presented as part of the entertainment and prizes will be awarded, Levart said.

Added peak-hour Pontoon Road Express bus trips

The Bi-State Development Agency will adjust service on its Pontoon Road Express, Wood River-Godfrey and Scott Air Force Base bus lines serving Illinois.

The changes, which are among several taking effect before or near Labor Day on the Bi-State transit system, were announced Wednesday by Executive Director Robert J. Baer.

Baer, he said the revisions are part of the agency's on-going effort to improve area transit services.

Beginning Monday, Aug. 30, in response to passenger suggestions, the first westbound Scott Air Force Base bus will leave Mascoutah at 8:40 a.m., 10 minutes earlier than the previous schedule, to facilitate a better connection with the Collinsville-Belleville bus line.

Starting Tuesday, Sept. 7, there will be additional peak-hour trips on the Pontoon Road Express connecting downtown St. Louis and Granite City. A new schedule also will be followed on the Wood River-Godfrey line to coincide with revised class hours at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey.

For additional toll-free information in Illinois, Quad-Cityans may call Bi-State at 875-4144.

Mormons

After supporting the Whigs in 1838 and 1840, Smith directed the Mormons to back the Democrats in 1842.

Nauvoo was now the largest city in the state, its political potency increased by home rule and bloc voting.

In 1844, Smith formed his own Reform party and began a campaign for the Presidency of the United States.

Meanwhile, the introduction of polygamy and wild tales spread by disillusioned converts increased antagonisms of non-Mormon neighbors in Nauvoo. Rumors and accusations flew between Mormons and Gentiles, and Smith's apparent autocratic control of the courts outraged church enemies further.

In the face of disruptions, Governor Ford called out the militia to keep order.

He had Smith and his brother, Hyrum, placed in the Carthage jail in protective custody, guarded by the Anti-Mormon Carthage Guards.

The militiamen lived up to their already dismal reputation, offering only token resistance to a mob that stormed the jail and murdered the Smiths on June 27, 1844.

Troops remained in the area, and by 1846 Brigham Young had taken most of the community on its historic trek to Utah.

Between 1849 and 1860, French communalitarians occupied Nauvoo.

On Feb. 3, 1848, a group of 69 left France to form a utopian community on the American frontier, far from the "contaminating influences" of industrial society.

They were joined by another contingent of settlers in 1849.

The French were Icarians, followers of Etienne Cabet.

Cabet based his philosophy on the moral teachings of Christianity, declaring that Jesus was a true communist.

Cabet abolished private property and individual enterprise, believing that with all working for the common good the evils of society would disappear.

The Icarians bought the deserted Mormon buildings, deciding to purchase the half-finished Mormon Temple instead of buying land.

It was a move that forecast doom, for the magnificent stone building was destroyed by a tornado in 1850.

Unlike the polygamist Mormons or the celibate Bishop Hill community, the Icarians stressed the importance of conventional marriage, with a few important variations.

Husband and wife were allotted one room in the community dwelling, a building 120 x 40 feet.

All meals were taken at the 80-foot community dining room, and requests for such items as new clothes were submitted to the community council.

More important, children were kept rigidly segregated from adults. They lived in the school building and were allowed only a brief Sunday visit with their parents.

Although each new member turned over his worldly goods plus an $80 entrance fee, debts began to mount.

The more ambitious and energetic quickly tired working harder without improving their own lot, and they left.

An estimated 1,800 Icarians lived in Nauvoo during the six years, but no more than 500 were ever there at one time.

By 1855, a majority of the group opposed Cabet's dictatorial methods.

When he attempted in 1856 to appoint a group of "inspectors" to ensure efficient work, the dissidents elected a new president.

The Cabet loyalists responded with a three-day strike, demonstrations and violence.

They then moved to St. Louis, but the new leaders fared no better.

In 1860, the group disbanded, $25,000 in debt and disillusioned with utopian communism.

The ante-bellum years knew many utopian experiments which rejected some element of modernism.

Only a few found the proper combination of leadership, economic solvency, doctrinal appeal and isolation (a "favor" bestowed on the Mormons by Illinoisans) which led to permanency.

Belleville Memorial Hospital created a new sewer division within the Street Department to be responsible for repair, rehabilitation and maintenance of sewer lines in the city's continuing fight against a multitude of sewer problems, particularly in the Nameoki area. The city presently has about 16 sewer breaks in need of repair.

Portell said that sewer workers also have begun use of the new television and grouting equipment purchased a month ago at a cost of $35,000. The new unit supplements similar equipment bought by the city a year ago and is expected to cut by half the time required to televise all sewers in the Nameoki area and make repairs by grouting in lines where repair appears possible.

The second television and grouting unit was bought after use of the first unit was highly successful in repairing cracks, minor breaks and disjuncted areas in sanitary sewer lines that otherwise might have broken down completely and collapsed in a short period of time.

The Street Department had worked out a program for covering all of the Nameoki area within a five-year period. The second unit was purchased so that this time could be reduced substantially and more sewer lines rehabilitated before further damage was incurred.

Portell noted that the Street Department now has a total full-time force of 32 men, with 12 of these assigned to the sewer division.

Council members also were notified Tuesday night that the Illinois Department of Transportation has approved two Street Department projects that will be financed with motor fuel tax funds.

The DOT approved City Council appropriation of $40,000 in motor fuel tax funds for resurfacing of 13th Street from Granite Avenue to McCambridge Avenue with an eight-inch base and installation of V-type guttering.

The other project given DOT approval calls for resurfacing Pershing Avenue from Marshall Avenue to Garden Avenue, also with an eight-inch base and V-type guttering, at a cost of $45,000.

GC faculty ratifies pact

Granite City public schools opened this morning with teachers working under a new agreement ratified by faculty members Tuesday morning. The pact is to be presented to the Board of Education at its Sept. 7 meeting and the board is expected to vote its approval.

In a meeting at the Labor Temple, teachers in Federation Local 743 approved a working agreement that amounts to $200 to $600 yearly more than the previous schedule.

Most teachers also receive step increases for each year of additional teaching experience. The yearly increments range from $375 to $1,125.

The upgrading of the basic salary schedule in most cases will provide a raise of $425 or $450, not counting the increases for years of service.

New teachers will receive $200 more than did new teachers a year ago. The highest basic increase is for teachers with 12 or more years of experience who will get a $600 raise through the change in the salary schedule.

Under a unique plan, cost-of-living pay is not figured on a cumulative basis. Because of the past year's inflation occurred at a slower rate than the previous year, teachers will have $475 added to their pay, beyond the schedule this year instead of the $675 added last year.

This $200 net reduction was figured in saying the highest basic raise is $600; the new schedule reflects an $800 change.

An announcement issued Tuesday follows:

"Local 743 (American Federation of Teachers) and representatives of the Board of Education have reached a tentative agreement on the 1976-77 working agreement."

"Talks began in the last school term and continued through the summer. Negotiations became increasingly difficult and were hampered by lack of financial information about local taxes which had a direct bearing on cash flow and budgetary consideration. The proposed agreement calls for a salary of $9,300 for a beginning teacher with a bachelor degree and a $17,450 salary for a teacher with a master's degree and 13 years of experience."

"The proposed salary schedule calls for an average teaching salary of $14,950. This is the second year of a two-year agreement, with 1977 being the only negotiable article."

GC park levy $453,762

The Granite City Park Board enacted a $453,762 tax levy ordinance Wednesday night to help meet expenditures projected in the 1976-77 fiscal year budget of $740,207 to operate local park district facilities.

The amount levied provides tax funds which supplement income from other sources to meet the total budget commitments.

The new levies, with amount budgeted shown, in parenthesis, are: general corporate fund $281,159 ($418,479); recreation fund $128,900 ($216,903); Illinois retirement fund $30,000 ($50,000); liability insurance $11,400 ($11,400); audit expenses $22,300 ($2,300); and ice rink bonds, no levy ($61,125).

The general corporate fund includes $66,750 for administration, $157,810 for operation of parks, $34,189 for concessions, $22,410 for Wilson Park swimming pool and the ice rink.

"The proposed salary schedule calls for an average teaching salary of $14,950. This is the second year of a two-year agreement, with 1977 being the only negotiable article."

Under a unique plan, cost-of-living pay is not figured on a cumulative basis. Because of the past year's inflation occurred at a slower rate than the previous year, teachers will have $475 added to their pay, beyond the schedule this year instead of the $675 added last year. This $200 net reduction was figured in saying the highest basic raise is $600; the new schedule reflects an $800 change.

An announcement issued Tuesday follows:

"Local 743 (American Federation of Teachers) and representatives of the Board of Education have reached a tentative agreement on the 1976-77 working agreement."

"Talks began in the last school term and continued through the summer. Negotiations became increasingly difficult and were hampered by lack of financial information about local taxes which had a direct bearing on cash flow and budgetary consideration. The proposed agreement calls for a salary of $9,300 for a beginning teacher with a bachelor degree and a $17,450 salary for a teacher with a master's degree and 13 years of experience."

National Steel outlook favorable

Chairman George A. Stinson of National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel, said Wednesday that the outlook for shipments will be about the same as in the 1976 second quarter, with earnings higher than in the 1975 third quarter.

Third-largest steelmaker in terms of shipments, National is operating at "80 per cent or slightly more" of capacity and expects the fourth quarter also to be favorable.

"The auto people expect a good start with new models and a good year for the entire 1977 model year," Stinson commented.

Steel price boosts have been fully justified by production costs, he said, adding that work will begin "sometime this fall" on building a $200 million coke oven battery, first phase of a major expansion of Midwest Steel, Portage, Ind.

He said the earlier decision to defer a hot strip mill at Portage reflects operating efficiencies achieved at the firm's other hot strip mills.

License hearing for Pub Friday

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Aug. 26, 1976 Page 10

Mayor Paul Schuler has scheduled a public hearing at 2 p.m. Friday to determine the status of the liquor license of Rick's Pub, 1300 Nineteenth St.

Mayor Schuler, who by virtue of his office also is city liquor commissioner, said he called the hearing after Richard Rose, 24, operator of the tavern, was sentenced in U.S. District Court on a plea of guilty to a federal charge of conspiracy following investigation in a counterfeit money case.

In a notice to Rose setting the hearing session, Schuler said the public hearing is planned "for the purpose of determining whether you are entitled to hold a license for the sale of alcoholic beverages in the city of Granite

Meanwhile, Rose said Tuesday that the mayor's reference in the hearing notice to the tavern "wherein the occurrence and commission of various offenses, including possession of counterfeit money, battery and unlawful use of a weapon took place," are untrue.

Rose emphasized that there never has been possession of counterfeit money "in the tavern or by myself." He said also that there have been no disturbances or other offenses involving weapons occurring in the tavern. Rose said "possession" of counterfeit money has not been involved in any charges against him.

Rose added that his attorney will file a motion to amend his sentence.

Rose was sentenced last week by Federal Judge H. Kenneth Wangelin in St. Louis to serve four months in prison, followed by 32 months probation. His attorney, he said, will ask the court to change this to 36 months probation, eliminating the four months in prison.

While another defendant in the case received the same sentence as Rose, he noted that one other defendant received three years probation and another was sentenced to five years probation without jail terms.

"I never at any time had any counterfeit money in my possession. All I did was talk to a man about the subject and I became involved in a conspiracy charge," Rose said.

Schuler, in setting a hearing on the Rick's Pub license, said state law specifically provides that any person convicted of a felony shall not hold a liquor license.

Performances planned here and in Ozarks for musical, original film

The combined Youth, College and Career choir of Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon Road, are busily preparing the musical, "Tell It Like It Is," for performance here and on their choir tour.

It was performed locally 10 years ago under the direction of the Rev. Dave Richardson, and the Emmanuel choir have updated the musical by changing Calypso tempos to soul rhythms and changing the blues sections to country and western.

"Tell It Like It Is" is the first musical to sell over 1,000,000 copies and ten years later it is selling at a rate of 100,000 copies a year, a church spokesman said.

In conjunction with the musical, the Emmanuel youth have made a film. Backgrounds for the film were the Holiday Inn at Sunset Hill and the Madison County Baptist Grounds in Mitchell.

The first performance of "Tell It Like It Is" will be Friday, Sept. 3, at 7 p.m. at Emmanuel Baptist Church. On Saturday, Sept. 4, the choir will leave on a tour of the Ozarks. It will sing at the Soldier's Home in St. James, Mo., and at the Orchard Crest Baptist Church in Springfield, Mo.

The singers will be staying at the dormitories of Southwest Baptist College in Bolivar. While in the Ozarks, they will see the play, "Shepherd of the Hills," in Branson and visit the Fun Spot.

An afternoon of boating on Table Rock Lake is planned. There will be 55 young people in the combined choir and 20 chaperones will be making the trip.

The choir is under the direction of Bill Ellsworth, and the Rev. Arthur Short is pastor.

Rites conducted for Mrs. Stefanac, 87

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Madison, for Mrs. Stefanac, 87, of 905 Alton Ave., Madison. She died at 1:10 p.m. on Aug. 19 at Notre Dame Nursing Home in Belleville. Her husband, Joseph Stefanac, died July 17, 1975. Survivors include seven daughters, Mrs. Mary Blatner, Mrs. Catherine Sueich, Mrs. Josephine Motil, Mrs. Ann Tansie, Mrs. Rose Jasodowicz, Mrs. Frances Steiner and Mrs. Helen Mooshegan; 17 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

NEWEST TRAINING AID for the Granite City South Warrior soccer team is this kicking board designed to improve accuracy of shots on goal. The board is the same size as the soccer goal and the large diamond in the center represents the easiest defended area of the goal. The areas numbered two through five designates degrees of difficulty in defending shots on goal. Areas marked with five are the most difficult to defend and thus the best aiming point for scores. At far right is junior Dave Goldschmidt, who on this attempt scored a three. The South Booster Club financed the kicking board.

RETURNING STEELER HARRIERS. These eight members of GCHS North's cross-country team will add experience and strength to the team's 1976 season effort. The athletes were instrumental last season in North capturing the sectional title and finishing 18th in the state finals.

18 Warrior soccer veterans this fall

Eighteen returning lettermen will help lead GCHS South's 1976 soccer campaign, which begins at home Wednesday, Sept. 1, against Waterloo.

Included in the 18 are seniors Mike Voegel, Rick Fernandez, Rick Bochner, Mark Spireff, Dave Moutria, Mike Austin and Ken Prazma.

Juniors are Robert Parasaghiian, Gary Phelps, Greg Feigl, Joe Theis, Mark Goldschmidt, David Goldschmidt, Barry Briggs, John Kerkovich and Dan Mendoza. Sophomores Fred Schuler and Steve Spencer also lettered last year.

Warrior Coach Gene Baker and Assistant Coach Mel Bunting will guide the squad.

A change in the soccer schedule is that there is no post-season sub-sectional tournament on tap.

"This was changed by the Illinois High School Association," says Baker, "and affects all schools."

Until this fall, numerous sub-sectionals, involving four or five teams in each, were played at various sites, with the victors advancing into sectional play for a chance to move into the state finals.

"Now," says Baker, "instead of having five or six subsectionals in an area, there will be anywhere from 16 to 20 teams in sectional competition—meaning that sectional winners must really have worked to earn a state playoff berth."

GCHS South's 1976 soccer schedule is:

Conditioning drills for South harriers

Granite City High School South's 1976 cross-country hopefuls, 19 in all, are undergoing running exercises at Wilson Park each morning under the supervision of Coach Virgil "Dick" Harmon.

Harmon said the potential runners practicing now are likely to be joined, when school opens, by a large number of freshman athletes.

The Warrior harriers will open the fall season on Sept. 2 in dual competition with GCHS North.

Three returning letterman will bolster the squad — Senior Glen Ahlers and Juniors James Dumont and Ken Meagher.

"We will be without the experience of two veteran runners who chose to try out for the school's football program," notes Harmon. They are Randy Presswood and Mike Coltern. The coach relates that five juniors — Mark DeGonia, Dan Giese, Bill Harrington and brothers Bill and Dave Blackwell — Should add strength to the harrier squad, along with two young ladies, Sandy Robinson and Clarrisa Pollard, both sophomores students.

Harmon said that, as in the past, no athlete will be cut from the team.

Each is required to compete against the others before scheduled meets to determine the seven-athlete squad for the particular meet.

Fitness within all students' reach

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

During the Summer Olympics in Montreal, millions of Americans were impressed by the strength, vitality and stamina of young athletes from all over the world... many still in their teens.

Thousands of small children, watching the Games, began to dream of being Olympic competitors themselves some day.

While few of today's pre-schoolers will become Olympic champions, they should nevertheless be encouraged to exercise and develop their physical capabilities. By doing so, youngsters could develop habits that can prevent obesity and heart disease when they reach adulthood.

Health experts point out that achieving physical fitness is a way of life, not just a fad or a temporary change in daily routine. And, they caution, it is imperative to establish this way of life at an early age.

This does not mean you have to rush your pre-schooler to the nearest gymnasium or swimming pool for professional training. Just the normal play activities of children can form the basis for a lifetime habit of physical activity.

Simple activities such as cycling, hiking, running and group competitive games, if enjoyed regularly during childhood, can help develop strong muscles, bones and hearts.

In addition, most children who routinely participate in these and other physical activities—swimming, skiing, skating—will develop a tendency to continue them in later life.

By encouraging children to enjoy exercise, and the attainment of physical fitness, parents can help them establish the health benefits of these activities while they are still young.

Urge your children to walk, whenever possible, instead of being driven to use stairways, instead of elevators. To engage in physical play, instead of sedentary recreation, such as watching television.

Establishing these habits early may lead to activities which are beneficial in preventing overweight and lowering the incidence of coronary heart disease among tomorrow's adults.

And if you are among the half of the adult American population that does not engage in physical activity for exercise, why not ask your doctor to suggest a simple regimen of activity appropriate to your age and physical condition?

Champion is likely to start at quarterback for Warriors

GCHS South's football Warriors continue pre-season practice sessions each day as the season-opening game at DeSmet Saturday, Sept. 11, approaches.

"Discounting injuries," says Coach Stan Wojcik, "we'll go with Senior Champion at quarterback."

Champion, one of this year's tri-captains, started last season and yielded the signal-calling duties to since-graduated Bryan Bunjan when Champion suffered a broken ankle in the second game of the season against Riverview Gardens.

"He is still considered one of the shortest quarterbacks in this area," notes Wojcik. Champion stands 5'7 and weighs little more than 150 pounds. But the athlete makes up for the lack of height with talent and other positive qualities.

If his height last year caused him to stretch high to look over his linemen, Champion may have to go up on the tips of his toes this season.

The line last year averaged 5-8 and this season's stands close to six foot.

"We had a standard joke last year," recalls assistant Nick Petrillo, "that we may have to switch to a shotgun offense just so Keith could see where he could throw the ball." In the shotgun, the ball is centered several yards through the air to the waiting quarterback.

The Warrior line may have found a solid leader in Senior Kevin Wilson, 6-0 and 190 pounds.

"Wilson perhaps can be compared to Doug Hartman," said Petrillo. Hartman, a 1974 graduate, was instrumental in opening the way for ball carriers on many occasions last fall.

Mike Clark, who played cornerback position last season for South, is surprising the coaches with his increased speed and may see action as a running back.

"He looks good," reports Petrillo. "He has sprinted 40 yards in 4.7 seconds."

South's grid schedule includes two Saturday afternoon games before going with all Friday night contests.

Golf competition begins for North

GCHS North opens its fourth season of golfing competition today at Lebanon at four o'clock with what Coach Russ Chappell believes is a stable and able group of athletes headed by three returning lettermen.

Three-year starter Doug Kraus is back as a senior. The other two returnees are Juniors Ben Harper and George Bartz. Fifteen athletes have been practicing on the greens of Arlington Golf Course, where the Steelers will hold all their home meets.

Chappell is striving for a unified and consistent team effort. Others expected to see action this season are Mike Cella, Scott and Brett Robertson, Russ Chappell Jr., Robert Fyalka, Chris Andrews and Kathy Galley.

Beck, who lettered last season in Coolidge basketball, captured a five-state regional meet earlier this year, qualifying for national competition in Alabama, but due to prior commitments could not compete. This weekend's regional racing is to be held at O'Fallon, Ill. Beck has won two feature races this season and services his own racer.

Wallace, Myers in close duel for late model honors

A battle for the 1976 Tri-City Speedway track championship promises to go "down to the wire" this season between two drivers each in both the late model and sportsman stock car divisions.

Competition to gain points in each class continues Saturday at 7:30 p.m., with late model racing on the half-mile dirt oval and sportsman racing on the quarter-mile track.

Defending late model titlist Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., heads that division's standings with 3,460 points.

Threatening to equal or surpass Wallace is East Alton's Bill Myers, who has 3,335.

Rounding out the top 10 in that division are Mike Hamerle of St. Charles, Mo., 2,880; C. C. Corbin of East Alton, 2,690; Jerry Sifford of Imperial, Mo., 2,033; Norm Cox of Berkeley, Mo., 1,795; Kevin Gundaker of St. Ann, Mo., 1,665; Ralph Knox of Elsberry, Mo., 1,625; Len Gittermeier of St. Charles, 1,580; and Bill Laycock of Granite City, 1,325.

St. Louisan Kris Krohn leads the sportsman class with 2,545 points, but five-time feature race winner Dean Aerne of Granite City is pressing him with 2,410.

Chuck Milam with 2,055 points and Les Gibson with 1,785, both of Granite City, hold down third and fourth spots in the standings and Bill Ried of St. Charles, Mo., is fifth with 1,705.

Sixth through 10th positions are occupied by Jack Yates of Granite City with 1,520; Tim Allen of St. Louis, 1,415; Larry Yates of Granite City, 1,270; John Wolmerer of St. Louis, 1,305; and Greg Dillender of St. Louis, 1,170 points.

An addition to the regular racing program Saturday will be an "officials' race in sportsman cars.

McClure takes cycle season championship

Texas Guy McClure captured his second Tri-City Speedway motorcycle racing title here Tuesday evening.

His feature race win during an American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned program earned him enough points to place him beyond reach of Alabama's Lance Jones.

McClure won the motorcycle racing crown here in 1973, and then had to settle for runnerup honors each year thereafter, behind Randy Cleek and then Danny Kirkland.

Jones threatened to claim his first title ever here, winning five consecutive feature races, but has been sidelined for the past two weeks suffering from mononucleosis.

McClure, 22, started the evening's activities with first-place finishes in a heat race and a semi-main event before passing Belleville's Robert Beary on the last lap of the 10-lap feature race enroute to victory.

Beary placed second in the main event, followed in order by

Granite Cityan Marshall Patrick, Collinsville's Doug Ann and Alton's Al Steele.

Steele, Patrick, Beary and Tolan Mike Kidd were also heat race victors.

Patrick finished second behind McClure in a semi-main event race. Kidd, Steele and Beary won their respective semi-main events.

Jones trailed McClure by five points going into Tuesday's program, 75-70, but the new champion added 10 points to his total.

The 1976 season will conclude Tuesday, Aug. 31. With each feature race winner awarded 10 points, no one still active is close enough to take the track title from McClure.

McClure, 22, started the evening's activities with first-place finishes in a heat race and a semi-main event before passing Belleville's Robert Beary on the last lap of the 10-lap feature race enroute to victory.

Beary placed second in the main event, followed in order by

State Fair appearances by Miss Melanie Asadorian

Miss Melanie Asadorian, 1976 Madison County Fair queen, performed at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield during the weekend.

More than 22,000 persons seated in the fairgrounds stadium witnessed the annual U. S. Auto Club (USAC) Tony Bettenhausen Memorial championship auto race were entertained by Miss Asadorian's vocal rendition of the national anthem.

Tom Bigelow of Whitewater, Wis., won the 100-mile race, his first win ever at Springfield.

The Granite City soprano will next attend USA's national racing program at the 24th annual DuQuoin State Fair at 2 p.m. Saturday for a similar performance preceding championship stock car racing. Ohio's Butch Hartman will attempt to maintain his lead in point standings in his quest for a fifth national racing title.

Miss Asadorian's appearance at DuQuoin will mark the third time since she was judged as county fair queen that she will have opened a major event by singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

On Aug. 6, she sang before more than 17,000 persons at St. Louis' Busch Stadium during "Madison County night" ceremonies preceding a major baseball game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies.

Fr. Kenneth Becker to head Scout retreat

Father Kenneth Becker, associate pastor of St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church, will serve as retreatmaster for a Catholic Boy Scout Retreat.

The announcement was made by Regional Mennerick, chairman of the Cahokia Mound Scout Council Catholic Committee for Scouting.

The event is scheduled to be held at the Granite City Army Installation Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 17, 18 and 19. Mennerick also named Bernard Petry, of Highland, as activity chairman for the event.

At least 200 Scouts of the Roman Catholic faith are expected to participate from the southern half of Madison County and Bond County.

Fr. Becker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Becker of Highland where he belonged to Boy Scout Troop 40 and earned the Eagle Scout award in addition to the Ad Alare Dei award of the Roman Catholic Church.

A member of the United States Marine Corps Reserve, Fr.

Becker worked for the Madison County Highway Department, the Pierson Farmers Cooperative and Basler Electric.

In preparation for the priesthood, he studied at the Springfield Diocesan Seminary and received a bachelor's degree in philosophy at Quincy College. Theological studies were taken at Kenrick Seminary in St. Louis.

Fr. Becker was ordained at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Springfield, Ill., on May 31, 1975, by Bishop William A. O'Connor.

"The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch," a western melodrama, will be presented by the East Bank Players on Friday and Saturday at the Polish Hall, 345 Greenwood St., Madison. Curtain time at both performances will be 8:15 p.m.

The public is invited to attend and may obtain tickets at the door, costing $2 each for adults and $1 each for senior citizens and students.

"Sneaky" violates every sacred tradition set down by such stalwart western heroes as John Wayne in "Rio Bravo," Gary Cooper in "High Noon"

Players 'Sneaky Fitch' show Friday, Saturday in Madison

and Alan Ladd in "Shane," Dan McGee, the Players publicity director, reported.

"Sneaky is a coward, a racist and a disgrace to the 'code of the west.' We think you'll enjoy the show," McGee added.

Among the cast of "Sneaky Fitch" are several new faces to the East Bank Players.

The newcomers include Greg Spence as the Singer, who will provide a musical background to the western action and keep the tension from becoming "unbearable," McGee said.

Greg has performed since 1967 at everything from the Madison Teen Town to the SIUE Coffee Shop to a horse show in Granite City.

Marilee House, who plays one of the dance hall girls, is a student at Granite City High School South. She has been active in sports and as a member of the Speech and Theater Club.

Another newcomer is Tracey Arnold, also a member of the South High Speech and Theater Club. Miss Arnold portrays one of the townspeople of Gopher Gulch, where the action takes place. She has been an active participant in various events at high school.

Despite her youth, Dawn Walker, who plays Doc Burch, has had considerable experience. She is a member of Freeland Repertory Company, Masque and Gavel and the National Forensic League. She has participated in many plays throughout her junior high and high school years and was first runner-up in a statewide oratorical contest, sponsored by the Optimists.

A new face in the production, but with a great deal of experience is Paula Milton. She is a member of the Peppermint Players and the Freeland Repertory Company and has been active in school theatrical productions and organizations. She will portray Mrs. Vale, the undertaker's wife.

No western town would be complete without cowboys, and so it is with Gopher Gulch, McGee said.

Larry Libby, who has been cast in numerous theatrical performances, Tony Becerra, seen in "The Wizard of Oz" and worked with the stage crew of "Zelda"; and Steven Phelps, who was in "Dracula, Baby," will be among the Gopher Gulch cowpokes.

The remainder of the cast will consist of: Gene Cassy as Mervyn Vale, the undertaker; Norma Mendoza as Mrs. Blackwood; L. Garcia as Maroon, the dance hall girl.

Blackwood, Jerry Tracy as Sheriff Oglesby; Jim Fensterman as Rackham, the fastest gun in the west; and Dan McGee as Sneaky Fitch.

Ann Scott, a teacher at Maryville School, is the show's director. She has taken part in many East Bank Players' productions and recently portrayed Steffi Hartman in "Zelda."

Join Campus Crusade staff

Dennis and Patty Morman are joining the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ International. They are recent graduates of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale where he majored in cinema and photography and she in home economics education.

Morman and his wife, the former Patty Hursey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hursey, 5 Lexington Court, Granite City, have completed six weeks of training at Arrowhead Springs in San Bernardino, Calif., the international headquarters of Campus Crusade for Christ.

His position in the Headquarters Ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ will involve working in the mass media department at Arrowhead Springs, the nucleus of the entire Campus Crusade for Christ ministry. He will help produce slide shows and films. Morman is from Park Ridge, Ill.

Campus Crusade for Christ is an interdenominational Christian movement of students and laymen who have united to help change the world in this generation by introducing others to the message of Jesus Christ, Morman said.

Founded in 1961 at UCLA by Bill Bright and his wife Vonne, the organization has since grown to include a staff of more than 6,000 in 82 countries. Field ministries include campus, high school, lay music, athletic, military, convalescent hospital ministry outreach and the Agape Movement, which was developed to provide men and women an opportunity to help reach remote areas of the world with the message of Christ, he noted.

Mr. and Mrs. Morman will be in the Granite City area until Sept. 2 and are available to speak to civic and church groups, they report. They can be contacted at 901-4072.

Arrest man; allege battery

Dwayne Pritchett, 25, of 2243 Lee Ave., was arrested at 9:30 p.m. Monday after he allegedly assaulted a 16-year-old girl along St. Clair Avenue near the Nameoki Drainage Ditch. He was charged with battery on a complaint signed by the girl's mother.

The victim said she was walking and heard someone behind her. She said she stopped to allow the person to pass and a young man talked to her a moment and then grabbed her around the waist.

When he attempted to put a hand over her mouth, she bit the hand and the young man released her and walked away. Police stopped Pritchett nearby minutes later and he was charged after witnesses alleged he was the assailant.

Minister convinces man to surrender in Pontoon Beach shooting incident

Bond was set Tuesday at $25,000 for William R. Dagon, 51, of 3845 B St., Pontoon Beach, on three charges of aggravated battery.

The charges stem from an incident at 6 p.m. Monday when Dagon allegedly fired one shot from a 12-gauge shotgun at two Pontoon Beach policemen after reportedly threatening his wife with the gun.

Sgt. Harold Denham and Patrolman Michael Staicoff said they answered a family disturbance call and talked to Dagon's wife who phoned police from a neighbor's home.

The two policemen were walking over to the Dagon home when, according to Denham, "We heard a blast and felt pellets flying by. We did not see Dagon who apparently had concealed himself behind the front door."

"We then went to our car radioed for backup and were assisted within a matter of a couple minutes by several Madison County Sheriff's deputies and Illinois State police at the scene," Denham reported.

"We had the house surrounded and our dispatcher tried to talk Dagon in giving himself up."

"I also tried talking to him," Chief Roswell "Junior" Bennett said.

Dagon told us if we tried using force he would use force. No shots were fired by the police. We were deciding what action to take when a minister appeared."

The Rev. Alfred E. Slayter, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, related, "Our family had just returned to our home here from Texas and we were unloading the car when I tried to call our church secretary and find out what had been going on at the church while we were gone."

"An operator broke into our line and said there was an emergency call for me from

Veto private college formula

Governor Daniel Walker during the weekend vetoed legislation (House Bill 1944) which changed the funding formula used to provide financial assistance grants to private institutions of higher education.

The measure provided for the use of full-time equivalency as the basis for grant awards.

In his veto message, Gov. Walker said: "The Board of Higher Education had advised me that the approved appropriation level, this change in formula would reduce funding for a number of institutions below that available in fiscal year 1976."

Gov. Walker also signed House Bills 3245 and 3246, affirming the technical and legal validity of Cook County tax levy ordinances for the years 1970 through 1974, even though they may not have been itemized as specifically as required by other laws. Laws passed in previous years have similarly validated levy ordinances dating back to 1939. Neither bill validates any levy in excess of the statutory tax rate ceiling.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BURGESS. They were united in marriage at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Cynthia M. Snipes, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Walter Conklin, 2809 Roosevelt Ave. and James Snipes of Caseyville.

Cynthia Snipes becomes Mrs. Robert L. Burgess

The wedding of Miss Cynthia M. Snipes and Robert L. Burgess was solemnized in an early afternoon ceremony on Aug. 21 at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church.

Father Peter J. Donohoe performed the double ring ceremony at 1 p.m. before an altar adorned with bouquets of summer flowers and greenery.

Organist Tom Wilkenson accompanied Louise Lewis as she sang, "A Time For Us," "We've Only Just Begun," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Walter Conklin, 2809 Roosevelt Ave. and James Snipes of Caseyville. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burgess, reside at 1725 Fifth St., Madison.

A full length polyester knit gown designed with a high collar edged in Venice lace, an Empire bodice and long tapered sleeves with lace cuffs was worn by the bride.

The semi-full skirt fell softly into a full sweep train.

She chose a camelot hat of lace to secure a melody length veil of bridal illusion and she held a colonial bouquet of yellow roses, white daisies, baby's breath and greenery.

Bridal attendants included Misses Teresa Eastep, Vicki Bailey, Karen Ozburn, Trudy Snipes, a step-sister of the bride, Michelle Biggs and Tina Conklin, the bride's sister.

They chose long yellow floral chiffon over taffeta halter dresses worn with short jackets.

The honor attendant held a white wicker basket of green tinted daisies and the bridesmaids carried baskets of yellow daisies.

Denise Yokley served as the flower girl. She was dressed in a lime colored dress made identical to the bridal gown, and carried a basket of yellow rose petals.

John Hutchings Jr. was the ringbearer.

The groom chose Charles Van Bibber as his best man. Groomsman and ushers were Mike Winklemier, Dave Johnson, Mark James, Norman Burgess, a brother of the groom, Dave Michaels, an uncle of the groom, Danny Erick, Danny Monroe, the groom's cousin, Neal Finley and Bill Bush Jr., both cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Margaret Michaels, the groom's grandmother, hosted a rehearsal dinner in her home, 1728 Fifth St., Madison.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Moose Hall.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Conklin, wore a long pink chiffon floor length gown with a matching cape. The groom's mother selected a blue knit dress and lace jacket ensemble. They both wore corsages of white elegance carnations and daisies.

A 1975 graduate of South High School, the former Miss Snipes, is enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she is studying nursing. She was formerly employed as assistant manager of the Washington Theater.

The groom is a Madison High School graduate and works at Ted's Hardware. He is a member of the Granite City Jaycees and a lifetime member of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolays.

They are residing in Granite City.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Conklin of Chicago, the bride's grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkenson of St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Worthen Snipes of Decatur, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gibbons of Belleville.

Service contracts can be helpful—or costly

By DARLENE HEER
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

A few months before the original warranty expires on your new refrigerator, television set, microwave cooking appliance or automatic washer or dryer, you may be asked to purchase a service contract or warranty.

Often the service contract costs more than you would pay for actual repairs during the next year or two.

A service contract may be worthwhile if:

- The appliance has given problems and/or has required extensive repairs during the first year.
- The appliance has been given much harder use than normal; or —The appliance was used extensively for demonstrations before your purchase.

If you are considering a service contract, find out if it covers both parts and labor. Some contracts cover only one or the other.

Also, find out if the price will go up if you renew the contract in subsequent years—and for how many years it is renewable. Check for limitations and exclusions. Will the contract be voided if a member of the family or a serviceman not connected with the contract tries to repair the item?

One alternative to the service contract is to budget for possible repairs and servicing by adding $10 or more a month to your savings account.

Davis-Arnold wedding at Calvary Baptist

Miss Cynthia Marie Arnold, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Arnold, 3858 B St., became the bride of Phillip Andrew Davis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, 3240 Aubrey Ave., Aug. 7, at Calvary Baptist Church. Bouquets of white gladiolus and carnations decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony performed at 6 p.m. by the Rev. A. E. Slayter. Linda Bennett sang "Danny's Song," "Annie's Song" and "My Sweet Lady," accompanied by guitarist Perry Dillard. For her wedding the former Miss Arnold selected a floor length gown fashioned of white polyester over taffeta. The Carolina bodice featured a sheer yoke with an open V-neckline encrusted with Venise lace appliques which were repeated on the shoulders, bodice and long sleeves. The full skirt merged into an attached semi-cathedral train encircled at the hemline with an edging of Venise flourishes. She wore a double fingertip veil of illusion bordered with Venise lace and secured by a profile hat covered with matching lace. Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations, baby's breath interspersed with talisman roses. Maid of honor Miss Cheryl De Runtz and bridesmaids Mrs. Sharon DeMott, Miss Sue Grimes and Miss Beth Thomas selected identical designed gowns in apricot, powder blue, yellow and lilac chiffon over taffeta. Each attendant wore a profile hat covered with matching organza and trimmed with a cluster of flowers. They held nosegays of daisies, baby's breath and carnations in pastel shades. Michelle Miller served as the flower girl and was dressed in an apricot frock similar to the adult attendants. She carried a basket of mixed flower blossoms. Ringbearers were Eric Munson, a cousin of the bride and Terry Davis, the groom's nephew. Scott Wilson attended the

Business Women hear lawyer discuss wills

"Do I really need a will?" was the question posed by Irvin C. Slate Jr., attorney-at-law, to members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at its dinner meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Slate surprised several members when he stated that not in every case does an individual need to have a will drawn up.

One instance in which a will should be executed is when minor children are involved, the attorney advised. Each member should consult her respective attorney for advice concerning whether a will is necessary in her specific case, he said. A lengthy question and answer period followed his remarks.

Slate was accompanied to the meeting by his wife, Anne, who was introduced by Mrs. Hazel Rollins, Finance Committee chairman and host chairman for the dinner.

Mrs. Sylvia Wright, BPW president, presided at the business session. Ratified by the membership were the 1976-77 budget and a series of new club policies.

Mrs. Lois Wetton, Style Show Committee chairman, announced the event will take place Sunday, Oct. 17, at St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, starting at 2 p.m.

Tickets shortly will be available to the public for the 1976 "Fall Shower of Fashions," Mrs. Wetton said.

The fashion show will launch "BPW Week" activities, Mrs. Edna Kolbrecher, chairman, reported. The annual celebration has been set from Oct. 18 to Oct. 24, conforming to national and state BPW proclamations.

Plans are being made for the week's program to involve the community, as well as the BPW membership, the chairman said.

Mrs. Wright asked all standing committee chairmen to attend the BPW District 14's President's Council at Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton on Thursday, Sept. 2. Mrs. Rosemary Hardwick will be in charge, she said.

Miss Annellen Smith, Personal Development chairman, announced Dr. Robert Williams of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will speak on the "Metric System" at the Sept. 15 dinner meeting at Charlie's Restaurant, commencing at 6:30 p.m.

The Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club met during the weekend at the home of Bradley Busch, 4600 D'Lyn Ave. and appointed committee members who will serve for the ensuing year.

Vice-president Mary Lou Metcalf presided and announced the appointments to include Craig Cavins and Bradley Busch, membership; Tracy Ashby, Mary Cavins and Jill Donkey, sunshine committee and Jennifer Herman, historian.

To open the session each one answered roll call with the name of a plant which grew the best in their garden this summer.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the host and his mother, Mrs. George Busch to those named and to Danny Ashby and Joel Donkey.

Honors class will feature women authors

Although Jane Austin's Pride and Prejudice was written way back in 1813 and Erica Jong didn't come along with her book, Fear of Flying, until the 1970s, the two books have a lot in common.

The books were written by and about women, but that isn't all. There are many other features that make the books significant for comparison. To learn what these books and other novels by feminine authors have in common, people can enroll in a humanities honors course at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

Along with the Austin and Jong books, students will explore such novels and works as Brontë's James Eyre, Gaskell's Cranford, the Case at Cranford, Murdoch's Severed Head, Porter's Ship of Fools, Collette's Gigi, Stein's Three Lives and Nin's A Spy in the House.

According to Betty Richardson, associate professor of English language and literature, the course covers a period in American history when physical survival for women depended on how well a young woman married and extends through the early seventies.

"We have moved from survival in the marriage market to the notion of psychic survival and even growth," Mrs. Richardson said.

The class has a seminar structure and includes reading, discussion and research. There are no examinations. A research paper on a related subject is required.

To be eligible to enroll in the seminar, students should have sophomore standing or above, a four-point cumulative grade average or dean's list status for the past two quarters.

Older adults who have read a lot but have been away from school for awhile are also encouraged to check with the instructor for special permission to enroll in the course.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SUE department of English language and literature.

Tougher anti-crime approach here needs to be copied elsewhere in nation, judging by the continuing uptrend

Courts have been taking a tougher approach during the past few months in the Quad-Cities and Madison County, judging by the latest national crime report, announced yesterday, crimes elsewhere also ought to become less lenient.

Attorney General Edward H. Levi estimates serious crimes in 1975 at 11,256,600, ten per cent greater than the population exceeding 20 million, these are staggering figures.

Violent crimes as a group—including murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault—rose five per cent in 1975 to a total of 1,026,280 offenses. Property crimes—including burglary, larceny-theft and motor vehicle theft—increased ten per cent to 10,230,300.

Cities of a quarter-million or more registered a seven per cent rise in reported serious crimes. Suburban and rural area crime climbed ten and eight per cent, respectively.

There were 482 violent crimes per 100,000 inhabitants, a four per cent increase. The property crime rate in 1975 was 4,800 per 100,000 people, representing a nine per cent rise over 1974.

Police were active. Law enforcement authorities made 9,300,000 arrests for all criminal offenses, not counting traffic violations. From 1970 to 1975, arrests have increased four per cent—13 per cent higher among suspects under the age of 18 and one per cent higher among older persons.

Of all reported Crime Index offenses, 21 per cent were solved by "arrest or exceptional means" in 1975. Solutions or clearances were recorded in 78 per cent of the murders, 51 per cent of forcible rapes, 27 per cent of robberies, 64 per cent of aggravated assaults, 18 per cent of burglaries, 20 per cent of larcenies and 14 per cent of vehicle thefts.

The concept that human life is valuable and must be respected continues under heavy assault. Murder offenses numbered 20,510 throughout the United States in 1975 and this community is among those that have felt the impact. Sixty-six per cent of all murders were committed with a firearm and 51 per cent of these were with a handgun.

A fourth of all persons arrested for murder were between 20 and 24 years of age. Fifty-four per cent of all adults prosecuted for murder were found guilty of that crime and 14 per cent were convicted of a lesser charge.

Aggravated assaults reached 484,710, up six per cent. Victims averaged 227 per 100,000 population, and a fourth of the assaults were committed with a firearm. Significantly, 41 per cent of those prosecuted for aggravated assault in 1975 were acquitted or the cases were dismissed.

Forcible rapes increased one per cent to 56,090, a rate of 51 per 100,000 females; 46 per cent of the adults prosecuted were

Letter from Washington

by Senator Charles H. Percy

Through wind, rain, sleet and snow... Americans still expect a personalized, efficient and inexpensive postal service.

In 1970, under the Post Reorganization Act, Congress had hoped to achieve just that: an independent postal system that would be operated as a business and eliminate the bureaucratic inefficiency of a government controlled service.

In the last six years the cost of sending a first class letter has gone up almost 70%. The U.S. Postal Service (USPS) is still being subsidized by federal funds, and the public remains dissatisfied with service while the USPS talks of even more service cuts.

When the United States Postal Service was established I optimistically thought that Congressional subsidization of the USPS could be eliminated by 1978. I still believe that with better management practices the postal service can be a self-sustaining operation; but not within two years under existing conditions.

The Senate will begin considering the Postal Reorganization Act Amendments of 1976 within the next several weeks. Under the legislation the USPS would receive an additional $1 billion over the next two years to meet operating expenses. The legislation will also establish a Commission to study the current problems facing the Postal Service.

Simultaneously the bill, if approved, would call for a moratorium on postal rate increases and service reductions until the commission reports.

There were 1,000,500 thefts of vehicles averaging $1,457 in value; 73 per cent of suspects were 20 or younger.

Sixty-six per cent of all murders and 25 per cent of aggravated assaults were committed with guns. A knife or cutting instrument was used to commit 18 per cent of the murders, 24 per cent of the assaults and 12 per cent of robberies.

Law enforcement agencies averaged 2.6 employees per 1,000 inhabitants; 11 per cent were females and 17 per cent were civilians. Violence against police resulted in 129 officers being killed, and for the past ten years the tragic toll is 1,023. In 1975, 98 per cent of such deaths were from firearms.

Fists and sometimes feet were used by the offenders in 80 per cent of the past year's attacks on police; one in every seven policemen was attacked during the year. Of 1,438 offenders identified in the killing of police officers, 76 per cent had at least one prior arrest, 40 per cent had an earlier arrest for a violent crime and 56 per cent had a prior criminal conviction.

Although the population continues to rise, the sugar-coating used in some interpretations of the overall crime trend seems inappropriate.

A lower increase compared to a past year sometimes is pictured almost as a decrease, when in fact a larger proportion of the citizenry is being victimized each year, compared to past periods.

The 5,282 offenses per 100,000 people were "only" nine per cent more than in 1974 but 33 per cent more than in 1970. If this is to remain a civilized society, a more effective response is essential.

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD — The ethics in government issue could be the big sleeper in the 1978 Illinois election campaign.

That Americans everywhere have become deeply disillusioned with the government establishment became obvious during the long months that followed the Watergate disgrace.

Probably nowhere in the country has this cynicism been so great as in our own Illinois. Prominent Illinois politicians have been marching off to jail about as frequently as regulars at the free lunch.

A sizable contingent of the legislature has been convicted, standing trial or under indictment. It is no wonder that the average Illinoisan feels his pockets are being picked by his elected officials — and many of their relatives — with the regularity of Old Faithful.

But the surprising thing is that he feels so strongly about it as he apparently does. Corruption has been so common in this state for so long that many in politics reached the conclusion a certain amount of it would be accepted as a way of life.

Now it appears that this belief may be wrong. The public response to the petition movement by the Coalition for the Illinois Political Honesty Initiative has symbolically rattled the Statehouse Dome.

Six months ago there was a decided tendency in political circles to brush off the movement to accomplish legislative ethics reform through adoption of three amendments to the state Constitution, as an amateurish undertaking which would get nowhere.

Doubts were freely expressed that sponsors of the endeavor would be able to obtain the 375,000 signatures necessary to place the proposals on the November ballot.

But by the May 1 deadline a mass of petitions bearing a total of 635,158 signatures had been filed with the office of secretary of state.

Six months ago there was a decided tendency in political circles to brush off the movement to accomplish legislative ethics reform through adoption of three amendments to the state Constitution, as an amateurish undertaking which would get nowhere.

Doubts were freely expressed that sponsors of the endeavor would be able to obtain the 375,000 signatures necessary to place the proposals on the November ballot.

But by the May 1 deadline a mass of petitions bearing a total of 635,158 signatures had been filed with the office of secretary of state.

Encephalitis case in area

Dr. Joyce Lashof, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said Wednesday that one human case of St. Louis Encephalitis has been reported in Illinois. "The patient," Dr. Lashof said, "is a 37-year-old Madison County woman."

She emphasized that one reported case in the state "does not necessarily indicate an outbreak such as the one we experienced in Illinois last year." In 1975, there were 578 cases of St. Louis Encephalitis reported in Illinois, and 47 deaths associated with the disease.

"It is not unusual," Dr. Lashof said, "to see occasional, sporadic cases occurring in a non-epidemic year."

Dr. Gary Clark, coordinator of the state health department's St. Louis Encephalitis Early Warning Program, said communities in all areas of the state are continuing to conduct active mosquito control programs.

He said many Illinois citizens "have undoubtedly been eliminating potential mosquito breeding places by removing from their yards and premises items such as flower vases, rubber tires, tin cans and other objects in which small pools of water can accumulate."

The Culex mosquito, primary carrier of the disease from birds to humans, can breed in such small puddles of water.

"All citizens are urged to join in efforts to eliminate these breeding places and thereby limit the numbers of mosquitoes," Dr. Lashof said. "Active support by everyone can help reduce the possibility of an outbreak this summer."

Dr. Clark advised that Illinois residents take personal precautions against mosquito bites. "Use mosquito repellent liberally," he said, "especially if going outdoors after dusk."

Culex mosquitoes, generally dormant during daylight hours, come out at about dusk to feed. Dr. Clark suggested that windows be checked to assure they are tight-fitting and in good repair. "If camping out," he added, "be sure to sleep under mosquito netting."

According to the Center for Disease Control, ten other cases of St. Louis Encephalitis have been reported in the United States this year.

Youth Sought

Police are seeking a young man who forced two young people to perform sexual acts in Wilson Park while holding them at gunpoint at 8:45 p.m. Monday.

A 16-year-old girl and an 18-year-old man told officers they were walking in the park near the eastern side of the ice skating rink when a man approached them, displayed a .38 caliber revolver and order both to undress.

He ordered both to perform sexual acts and then committed acts with each individual before he left walking south through the park.

The young woman was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The assailant was described as about 5 feet, 7 inches tall, weighing about 145 or 150 pounds, having long "frizzy" red hair and wearing a dark sweater shirt and dark pants. The victims said he made mention of having been in Menard State Prison at one time.

Police stopped one youth for questioning but released him after the victims said he was the wrong young man.

Ozone alert north of Quad-City area

An ozone yellow alert was issued Wednesday by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for the areas of Roxana, Wood River, Alton and Wood River. The alert does not include the Quad-City area.

EPA officials declared the yellow alert after its monitoring station at Wood River showed ozone levels at 182 parts per million at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Federal regulations list any ozone reading higher than .081 part per million as exceeding the federal limit, but rarely call an alert until readings register higher.

The alert is confined to an area in Madison County from north of Interstate 270 and east of Interstate 55.

Under the yellow alert persons with heart and respiratory ailments should reduce physical activity and avoid going outdoors, the EPA said. The smog blanketing the St. Louis metropolitan region, including the Quad-Cities, is due to a thermal inversion layer - pollution trapped by high temperatures and temperatures above 700 feet and no air getting mixed up below it.

Emissions from area factories have been trapped beneath this layer since last weekend and have not dispersed.

The National Weather Service said the thermal inversion layer is expected to persist today. The pollution still will be around but less concentrated, they reported.

dictated he would not fight such an amendment, either.

Carter on Tuesday told the American Legion he is opposed to blanket amnesty but would immediately grant blanket pardons to Vietnam war draft evaders.

The GOP nominee for vice president, Sen. Robert Dole, told the Legion convention in Seattle, Wash., yesterday that the President's position on evaders is "no blanket pardon, no blanket amnesty, no blanket clemency."

And Pres. Ford on Tuesday announced his support of replacement of Locks and Dam 26 on the Mississippi River here two miles south of the present facility. He asked for prompt Congressional authorization of $391 million for the project; the General Accounting Office said the same day that the project rather than new construction would cost $473 million.

Candidate Carter earlier voiced opposition to such projects as Alton dam replacement.

Faces 2 charges

Jerry L. Decker, 24, of 2447 Jerden Ave., was arrested at his home following a second disturbance at 11:45 p.m. Tuesday and was charged with assault and resisting arrest.

Officers alleged force had to be used to subdue him at his home and when he was in the police station, he allegedly scuffled with police a second time when they removed his handcuffs.

Police said Decker suffered a cut to his head, which may have struck the wall during the second disturbance. He posted $100 bond Wednesday and was released.

Mayors hear public works guidelines

Guidelines for administration of the Public Works Employment Act which became law early this year were discussed by Jeff Tulloch of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission Wednesday night at a meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors.

Approximately 75 persons attended the monthly meeting which was hosted by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City at Charlie's Restaurant. Tulloch said that many guidelines for the program still are to be announced, but that generally the new act, which was passed by Congress over President Ford's veto, will provide $3.9 billion for construction of public works throughout the country, and that of this amount $58.5 million has been allotted to Illinois.

Granite City has applied for $2,150,000 in public works grants for construction of a new city hall, drainage for a proposed new road from the Nameoki area to the downtown district, and for a new drainage line for the Doherty Slough area.

THEFT FROM WRECKER
Items with a total value of $600 were stolen from the wrecker truck of George Gordon, 2519 Iowa St., parking in front of his home, he discovered at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. The right rear window was broken to gain entry and a citizen with a radio and a tape player was taken. Gordon's auto also was entered, but nothing was taken from it.

struction money and are just waiting for this grant money so they can start building sewers." The EPA offered Madison County grants to pay about three-fourths of the cost of constructing sanitary sewers in the three areas, but there has been opposition to raising the $5.6 million local share, mainly in Areas Two and Three.

The lawsuit seeks temporary and permanent injunctions to halt Area One bond sales, claiming the county did not meet all requirements of the law in authorizing the bonds.

Harry E. Hartman, attorney for the sewer committee, contended the committee followed state law "to the letter." He viewed the suit as a delaying tactic filed in the hope that the state would withdraw the grant offer for Area One.

He said he is hoping to settle the suit quickly so the sale of bonds can be held.

Sparks said Hartman is "burning the midnight oil" preparing the written answer to the suit's contentions and hopes to file his answer with the court by the end of the week.

The county, meanwhile, has applied to the federal government for an Economic Development Administration grant to pay the local cost of sewer construction.

The application "has gone into the hat with 1,000 to 2,000 other applications from nearly every community in Illinois," Edouard Juneau, engineer in charge of the sewer project, commented.

Juneau, Sparks and sewer committee members met with the EPA and the Madison County Board of Supervisors Monday afternoon and reported mixed results.

"The EPA said sewer projects are a high priority, since sewers lead to development and to new jobs. But they indicated there is going to be about $60 million to $70 million for all of Illinois outside of Cook County, and applications already have been received for hundreds of millions of dollars worth of grants," Sparks told the Press-Record.

There is no hope, however, of approval in time to save the current EPA grant offer for Areas Two and Three. Sparks noted that the EPA regional office, which serves all of Illinois and portions of two other states, has about 20 persons employed and has not yet established guidelines for how the money will be doled out.

Formal grant applications have not yet been printed and distributed. Sparks said Madison County until the end of September, Sparks was told.

"Then the 50 people are going to start to study all of these grant applications—hundreds of them—and decide which ones should be funded. I don't know how they are going to be able to handle it."

"We also were told their policy has been to try and fund applications on an all-or-nothing basis. If we apply for the full local share of the construction cost, we will either get the full amount requested or we will get nothing," Sparks added.

He said the committee plans to file a separate application for each of the three sewer areas and let each application "go it alone" in the grant selection process.

Sparks feels Area Three (Eagle Park-Cloverleaf-East Madison) will probably have the greatest chance of being funded by the EPA, since the applications are to be considered by weighing the need for development, the percentage of unemployment, the economic situation of the area and other factors. Area Two (State Park Place) also is expected to receive a high priority, with Area One close behind.

Sparks said they also met with EPA officials in Springfield and were told the Area Two and Three grants will not be extended beyond Sept. 1, but those areas will not lose their priorities for funding in a future year should they find a means of financing the local share of the construction cost.

"The future is indefinite and we don't know what types of grants the EPA is likely to offer in the future."

"But we feel the three-quarter cost grant offered now for Area One is the best offer we are likely to get and we want to proceed now, if we want sewers," Sparks said.

He said the EPA officials pledged to hold the Area One grant offer open for a time while the lawsuit is settled, "but they made it clear they would not hold that money for us for two or three years. They told us to get going or that would be it," Sparks said.

Madison asked to annex area

A petition for annexation to the city of Madison, signed by 15 residents living on the south side of Harris Street between McCambridge Avenue and Farish Street was presented to the Madison City Council at its Tuesday night meeting.

The center of Harris street is the dividing line between the Madison and Nameoki Township. The petitioners were referred to the Zoning Board.

A question of providing sewers was brought up by Alderman Don Broyles. Mayor Mike Sasyk said that money for sewers would come from a federal grant.

The matter was referred to the council and Mayor Sasyk asked City Clerk John Bellotti to write Nameoki officials to determine their feelings in the matter.

Mayor Sasyk appointed First Ward Alderman Robert Don Reeves and Paul Ashford and Second Ward Alderman Don Broyles as an ad hoc planning committee.

Chief of Police Frank Dulko in making a report to the council said, "It has been called to my attention that some of the aldermen are getting complaints from the people about police service. I would like for any alderman who calls the police station and does not get satisfaction from the desk man or the officer on duty to please call me direct, regardless of what time it is and I will personally check into the problem."

The police report for the month of July showed $773 in fines collected with 63 persons arrested, 3,057 logged entries during the month. Police answered 133 alarms during the month.

A request to prohibit parking area on part of Market and Washington streets was referred to the Street and Alley Committee and the Chief of Police for study and a recommendation.

The council approved the sale to high bidders of city owned property at 1426 Third St., purchased by the Odd Fellows Lodge for $600, and 1617 Fifth St., purchased by Ray R. Green for $1,113. A traffic stop at Kennedy Drive and Greenwood Street and bills of $45.117 for Aug. 11 through Aug. 24 were completely destroyed.

Three fires in Long Lake area

The Long Lake fire department responded to three fires Wednesday evening.

At 9:30 p.m., firemen were called to the home of James Whit, 4716 Nameoki Road, where smoke filled the house. An attic exhaust fan developed a short and caused the smoke. Firemen crawled into the attic, disconnected the fan and cleared the house of smoke.

At 6:49 p.m., lightning reportedly hit a field near Angela Drive and started a weed fire, but the heavy rains put it out before the firemen were at the scene.

An auto fire at 6:39 p.m. on Highway 162 near Horseshoe Lake was extinguished by Long Lake firemen. The auto was completely destroyed.

Drivers cautioned as schools reopen

Motorists should give special attention to safe driving procedures as school resumes at summer's end and children return to school, cautions the Auto Club.

In its annual "School's Open" program, designed to make drivers especially aware of children going to and from school, the club is urging motorists to give a second thought to and a second look at the hundreds of school children they soon will encounter.

This year's "School's Open" poster design illustrates the dilemma drivers often find themselves in: "Although children now will be on the streets and sidewalks in large numbers, it's amazing how invisible they can become.

"Many children know little of pedestrian safety rules, and even those who do are likely to forget them in pursuit of a rolling ball or a wind-tossed school paper," a spokesman said.

The Auto Club offers these safety reminders for motorists: 1. "When in a school zone, watch for reduced speed limit signs that become effective when classes are in session. 2. "Remember the law about stopping before passing or overtaking a school bus that has stopped to pick up or discharge children.

3. "Watch for youngsters riding bicycles. They may appear suddenly from a blind spot near your car."

4. "If you are a parent, help your child map out his or her safest way to school. And remember that traffic hazards near schools multiply when children are dropped off and picked up in family cars. 5. "Remember that school traffic controls such as stop signs, traffic signals and adult crossing guards are now operating. Summer driving habits must change to look for and obey these special controls."

Arrest woman on 3 charges

The complaints were lodged by neighbors who alleged Mrs. Caldwell had threatened them. Assault complaints were signed by John Daughy on a June 31 incident and Donna Adler for a June 8 incident. The battery complaint was signed by Rhonda Kinsey from a July 28 incident.

Mrs. Caldwell was released on her own recognizance pending a hearing Sept. 13.

HIT SCHOOL FENCE

A hit and run motorist struck and damaged more than 100 feet of chain-link fencing at Niedringhaus School, 25th and State streets, it was discovered Monday. Twelve fence poles were knocked down when the fence was struck.

GC franchise talks due

Negotiation of a new franchise agreement between Granite City and the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. will get under way next week under action taken by the City Council in its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Paul Schuler, acting under an authorization approved by council members a week ago, appointed members of the council's City Buildings Committee to make up a special committee to negotiate new franchise terms.

Chairman of the committee is Curtis Blevins, alderman of the Fifth Ward. Members include Alderman Sam Whitner of the Second Ward and Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward.

Following council concurrence in the mayor's appointments, arrangements were made Wednesday with Illinois Bell officials to hold the first meeting at 7 p.m. Monday.

The present franchise agreement with the telephone company expired Aug. 20.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer suggested that the city representatives keep in mind provisions for the new emergency 911 telephone service established under state law which, he said, will require Granite City to handle emergency calls for all outlying communities in the Quad-City area.

He said proper phone facilities should be considered in connection with the program, although initiation of the emergency system is to be effected over the next nine years.

Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman, chairman of the Finance Committee, said the committee will delay until the Sept. 7 meeting a recommendation as to whether the city should make a new official census. He said there are several methods under which a U.S. census may be made and that his committee wishes to investigate these before deciding definitely what the city should do.

Coleman suggested two weeks ago that the city study the possibility of a new census because of annexations that have been made since 1970, date of the last official U.S. census. He said an increase in population established by a census would mean an increase in state income tax allocations and in federal revenue sharing funds, both of which are based on population.

The council approved a request by Lieutenant-Colonel George Teller of the Police Department for expense allocations of $200 each for six police officers to attend and participate in the annual Police Combat Matches at Jackson, Miss. on Sept. 27, 28 and 29. Teller noted in his request for the expense funds that Patrolmen James Lengyel and Kerry Pomeroy won the first-place expert trophy in last year's matches.

Also approved were expense allocations of $450 each for the aldermen, city clerk, treasurer, mayor and city attorney to attend the annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League Sept. 10, 11, 12 and at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Rosemont, Ill. Mayor Schuler also announced the appointment of Blevins, chairman of the City Buildings Committee, and Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, to attend a seminar in Chicago Thursday, Sept. 2, on details of the new Public Works Employment Act which will provide $58 million in grants in Illinois for public works building projects. An expense fund of $600 was granted to permit Fire Chief Don Parente to attend the annual Firefighters Association convention in Texas, Sept. 14 through 18.

200,000 River Fest attendance

The 1976 Mississippi River Festival drew nearly 200,000 patrons, Festival Director Lyle Ward said Wednesday.

"Our total attendance is down about 25,000 to 30,000 from last season's record," said Ward, "but much of that is attributable to the cancellation of the 'Yes' concert."

The rock group canceled its performance when technical requirements became too demanding for the MRF site. The group performed the same night in a rescheduled performance in St. Louis.

"Although we haven't completed the figures yet, and won't be able to until the final post-season activities in mid-September, it appears that the major part of our decline was in the area of rock, and that the Fine Arts and family type shows were fairly stable in their average attendance," said Ward.

The highest attendance for the season was the 22,000 for the Marshall Tucker Band on July 7, followed by 16,000 for The Doobie Brothers on July 21. The high for the 1975 season was the Eagles, with 28,000.

"Rain was a factor in a few of the rock shows," Ward added.

"We had 16,000 in spite of the rain for The Doobie Brothers on a night we had figured on 20,000 or better. We also had rain for Loggins and Messina, which held that crowd down to about 10,000."

The rock group America will be performing with special guest artist John Sebastian Friday, Sept. 17, filling out the final three days of MRF activities in a "post-season special."

On Wednesday, Sept. 15, the Chicago Symphony, conducted by Leonard Slatkin, will perform the first of three days of MRF activities in a "post-season special."

Ward said plans for the 1977 season are under way, some scheduling already being made for fine arts performances.

Nameoki calls bids on new police car

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors voted Monday night to seek bids for a police car to help establish a Nameoki Volunteer Police Department in Nameoki Township Precincts 3, 5 and 11.

The money is a special fund earmarked for the department from the township's federal revenue sharing grant. A total grant of $9,000 is intended to purchase the car, uniforms, radio equipment, guns and other equipment, after which the department is to be self-supporting through donations and fund-raising activities.

About six volunteers have been trained under Madison County Sheriff John Maeras and have been certified as supervisors of safety under the sheriff's department.

A similar volunteer department in State Park Place, also started with a police car and equipment purchased through a grant from Nameoki Township, is to be reactivated in the near future.

The department was disrupted by political differences and several resignations left it too short of manpower to conduct operations earlier this year.

Nameoki Township officials warned that if immediate steps were not taken to reorganize the department, its squad car and equipment would be turned over to the proposed Nameoki department.

The board had set an Aug. 15 deadline for the department to reorganize or lose its bid, but board members voted Monday night to purchase the new car for the Nameoki department, since seven State Park volunteers are to begin training Sept. 10 with the sheriff's department.

Due to problems with the State Park police making purchases without prior board approval, the board voted to have all new equipment for the Nameoki Department inventoried at the township hall prior to being released to the department.

Final point show for Trailriders Saturday

The Granite City Trailriders will hold their fifth and final point show of the current season at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the saddle club's arena, located on Rock Road near the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

The public is invited to attend without charge and watch competing riders put in their final bid for the high point trophy to be awarded in each class of competition. Mrs. Ginger Bowman, secretary, announced.

Contestants have accumulated points in four other meets held during the summer months. The results are announced and trophies will be awarded at the end of the show season, Mrs. Bowman explained.

The fourth high point show took place during the past weekend.

Capturing three first place wins was Barb Carter riding "mas" Jet Pet in the halting division (stallions) and senior barrel race and senior western pleasure events.

Double first place winners were: Janetta Bowman riding Charlie, pony poles and pony barrels; Leon Weldon on Fort Cody, senior barrels and senior poles; Don James riding Rex, fox trotting and gaited country pleasure; and Shelle Hatzel on Kate, junior barrel race pleasure and junior western pleasure.

Other first place winners were: Lisa Foley on Apache, junior barrels; Kathy Bargiel on Tennessee Buck, ladies gaited country pleasure; Mike Bowman riding Little Buddy, junior poles.

Guy Jackson riding Pistol Pete, flag race; Jeanna Weldon on Okie, plug race; Alex Rader halting; Miss Tuff Charge (mare division); Gary Dalton halting; Sargent Hobby (gelding division); and Joe Blyue riding Ringo, pony pleasure.

Chouteau Bicentennial fund continues to grow

Additional contributions in memory of past citizens have been received by the Chouteau Township Bicentennial Committee, it was announced today by Betty Lavelle, committee chairman.

During the past few weeks, contributions have been received in the names of Ida Handfield, May Hawk, Cora Sparks, Fairy Lasswell, and Ben Eberhart, she said.

The names of these individuals will be engraved on a permanent plaque to be displayed in the proposed Chouteau Township Community Center as part of the Bicentennial project, it was noted.

The funds will be used to purchase equipment for the community center which is scheduled to be completed later this year.

A spokesman for the Bicentennial project stated, "We are very pleased to honor the people who have contributed so much to our township and are now remembered by contributions in their memory."

"It is gratifying to our committee, and we are sure to all residents of Chouteau Township, to know that the inspiration of these individuals continues to lead the development of our community and their contributions to this area have not been forgotten by family and friends."

Quad-Citizens interested in obtaining further information about the Bicentennial project may contact Betty Lavelle at 797-0402.

Leonard Chronister, 30, who listed an address in the 2100 block of Washington Avenue, suffered a skull fracture when he was struck with a pool cue at the Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., during the weekend.

He told police he was with a group of people in the tavern when a man playing pool swung the cue at him. He said he knew of no motive for the attack. Chronister was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a one-and-a-half-inch cut to his forehead. X-rays showed a fracture to his skull and he was transferred to Firmin Delege Hospital, St. Louis.

In loving memory of FRED R. SUMMERS, Aug. 29, 1975. He had no close friends, but he was a good man. Not even a goodbye. He was gone before I knew it. And only God knows why. They say time heals all sorrow. And helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved that I miss him very much. God gave me strength to face it. And the courage to face the blow. But when it meant to lose him, No one will ever know. My heart aches with sadness. My eyes shed many tears. I don't know how much I miss him. And will throughout the years. Sincerely yours, SHARON YORK. 32 26

Memories of Gary Lee 32
He passed away June 29, 1976 - 22 years of age. The name "Billo" now is written in Heaven's Glorious Gold. And the Angels have enveloped you in God's celestial fold. "Angel Child" and "Little One," a "Baby one," I'm sure, then such a "Little Man." Your world is "Precious" and much more. "Just loved you" specially. I know this year ago, the sweetest spirit lived in you. This is true, I know. Your face with life is over, and indeed, you know, you've won. You gave love, peace, and joy. You brought me into the world. At church you were a leader. You loved the Bible - true and when we see the "stars" at night, we'll have these memories of you. "Mom" Carlwright

In loving memory of KATHERINE LEITL, she left us Aug. 31, 1964. They say time heals all sorrow. And helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved how much we miss you yet. God gave us strength to face it. And courage to bear the blow. But when it meant to lose you, No one will ever know. Sincerely yours, HER FAMILY. 32 26

In loving memory of FREDRIC MARMION, August 26, 1963. Nothing can ever take away the love we heartily hold dear. Fond memories linger every day. Remembrance keeps him dear. Sincerely yours, MOTHER, SON and SISTER. All Who Loved Him. 32 26

Burgers, pizzas brighten middle of the school day

"The largest food operation in town with the most inexpensive meals is probably not a fast food chain. It's the school lunch program operating in public, private and parochial elementary and secondary schools across Illinois," reports State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin.

According to Illinois Office of Education figures, a million lunches were served each day in the 3,682 public and 463 non-public schools in the state participating in the National School Lunch program last year.

Of this total, 652 public and 31 non-public schools also participate in the breakfast program.

The menu was to reflect ethnic tastes and regional and dietary preferences.

Basically, however, most meals are what is known as a Type A lunch—offering at least two ounces of high protein food (lean meat, poultry, fish, cheese, etc.); three-fourths cup of vegetables and/or fruits; a slice of whole-grain or enriched bread (or an equivalent serving of biscuits, muffins or rolls); one teaspoon of butter or fortified margarine; and a half-pint of milk.

"The Type A lunch is based on dietary recommendations of the National Research Council's Food and Nutrition Board. It is designed to provide a child with about one-third of the recommended daily dietary needs," Cronin said.

What do kids like to eat?

A supervisor in the Illinois Office of Education who was a school lunch director reports that ground meat items are big sellers—hamburgers, barbeques, meatballs and meat loaf. Also popular are fried chicken, pizza, turkey and tacos. Chili and spaghetti with meat sauce are other favorites.

Vegetable favorites are, in order of preference, (1) green beans, (2) corn, (3) peas and (4) greens.

Broccoli, on the other hand, is rated one of the least favored of the vegetables.

The most popular salads are gelatin and fruit, lettuce salads and cole slaw.

School lunches have been served in some Illinois schools since the turn of the century.

In Illinois, as in other states, and in Europe a hundred years earlier, child food programs were first undertaken by private societies and charities interested in child welfare.

Among the first school lunch programs in the nation to be under the auspices of a school board was the one in Chicago which began in 1902 under the Chicago Board of Education.

By 1921, Chicago was reported to have the most extensive school lunch system in America. Last year, 328,000 children were being fed each day in the Chicago lunch program.

An additional 44,000 were served daily in the Chicago Archdiocese lunch program.

School lunch programs received agricultural commodities from the federal government during the 1930s and early '40s. Then, in 1946, Congress passed the National School Lunch Act to make the federal assistance a permanent arrangement, rather than a year-to-year dole.

Congress was prodded into action that year after taking a look at the nation's nutrition and being stunned by data showing thousands of young men had been rejected for the draft for physical reasons directly traceable to malnutrition in their childhood.

A second factor, which added further impetus to the school lunch movement, was the extensive farm surplus which existed.

The act creating the National School Lunch Program spoke of a program "to safeguard the health and well-being of the nation's children and to encourage the domestic consumption of nutritious agricultural commodities and other foods."

Schools participating in the lunch program still receive agricultural commodities representing a minimum of 11.75 cents per Type A meal. In addition, they receive a cash reimbursement, which last year amounted to 12.5 cents per lunch, with an additional subsidy for all lunches served free or at reduced prices.

Free lunches to needy children qualified for an additional 56.75 cents per lunch, with the reduced price lunches qualifying for an additional 46.75 cents per lunch.

The state government provides an additional 15 cents to school districts for each free lunch served.

In Illinois last year, 475,000 children received free lunches each day. An additional 16,000 qualified for reduced price lunches.

Dr. Cronin praises the school lunch programs for their positive nutritional impact on school children in Illinois.

"We must consider the condition of the children we are trying to teach," Cronin said, "and a hungry child just doesn't learn well, or perhaps at all. When we fill a child, we help to fill a basic prerequisite to his or her learning."

Receives award for aluminum recycling

John R. Krause, 3996 Lake St., is the winner of a leadership award for redeeming the largest amount of recyclable aluminum at Vesel, Inc., Highways 111 and State Aid 35 in Granite City. It was one in a series of awards over a two-week period, covering each Reynolds aluminum recycling collection point in the metropolitan region.

The award was presented to encourage public participation in recycling and to notify area residents that they may donate any part or all of their aluminum to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Any recycler who chooses to do so will have a check in his name presented to MDA in connection with the annual Jerry Lewis telethon.

Krause, who turned in 227 pounds of the metal, will receive a bonus of $85 in addition to the regular redemption payment of 15 cents per pound. Aluminum collections by the Reynolds mobile recycling unit will be made again at Vesel, Inc., on Saturday, Aug. 28 from noon until 3 p.m.

Individualized teaching materials aiding Madison district students

Every child in school has a particular learning style which is unique; therefore, every child needs materials which will enable him or her to learn the most through that style, according to James Comer.

Director of the Teacher Corps Project and professor in the School of Education of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Comer says, "A child learns 70 per cent of all that he will learn before he enters school."

"What we give them in school is on top of that. Right now, we hope to individualize teaching methods."

The Teacher Corps is a special university project, working together with 20 Madison elementary school teachers.

According to Mrs. Rosalie Grayson, instructor in special education at SIUE, "It is a professional development program for the teachers."

The program in Madison District 12 involves putting together individual diagnostic instructional materials, including learning games in mathematics, reading and language skills, and science.

The whole emphasis is on different ways to teach the same subjects," Mrs. Grayson said. "There are listening tapes, laminated worksheets and activity cards besides the learning games."

According to Comer, the reason for laminating the materials is so they will last indefinitely.

"These materials are also good in respect to giving freedom to children's natural creativity," Comer said. "They learn by being able to find the answers through their own initiative."

The materials will be used in a diagnostic teaching program for children from kindergarten

Back-to-school advice

By WILLIAM J. SCOTT
Illinois Attorney General
Countless families throughout Illinois and the nation are taking a day or two this month to shop for back-to-school items.

For some, it's a time of fun and anticipation. For others, a time of misery and dread.

Either way, here is some safety advice to remember when thinking "back-to-school."

1. In buying clothing... For outer garments, purchase at least one thing white or light-colored. For example, a hat, gloves and/or scarf. Winter mornings and evenings can be dark and white is seen better by drivers.

2. Remember how wet a child can get rolling about in snow and ice... even on route to two blocks to school. Consider some water-repellent garments and sturdy boots.

3. Scuff the soles of new shoes (after you buy them, of course). New soles can be slippery and make falls more likely, especially on newly-polished school corridors.

And remember how dangerous platform shoes can be. Many a person has fallen off of them, or because of them. Is through the sixth grade. "Diagnostic teaching centers will be set up within the classroom for each of the subjects, and children will be able to work with the individualized materials at their own pace and level of skill," Mrs. Grayson said.

Each child will be given a diagnostic test before and after the program.

"In this respect, because they are working on their own, a progress report of work accomplished would be given to the parents and the children," Mrs. Grayson said. "This would also serve as a grade for the school administration."

The 28 teachers from the Madison school district have been trained through the Teacher Corps Project for a year, according to Mrs. Grayson.

"There are three basic parts," she said. "The first is what we call Behavioral Skills Laboratory (BSL); the second, an on-site consultation with Professor Jim Comer; Professor Donald Baden or myself; and, third, a workshop to ready the materials for use."

"There is only one fault in the program, and that is that we as faculty realize that we have to instruct the teachers to teach with materials through lectures and ideas, rather than through model teaching—or as it would be taught to the youngsters in the classroom."

your child "ready" for platform shoes?

4. Many school supplies—rulers, compasses, scissors, protractors, etc.—have sharp edges. Be certain your child has a safe place to carry them if he must.

Sharp edges also can be found on lunch boxes. Find one with smooth edges and be sure it fastens securely. And don't pack it with food items stored in glass containers. Don't include carbonated drinks or aerosol cans that could explode. Be sure the thermos is labeled "safe for children," and instruct your child to check for breakage before drinking.

6. If your child walks to school, especially along a roadway, remind him not to engage in horseplay or make any quick action that could startle a motorist or cause a motorist to lose control. Also remind your child to walk on the roadside facing traffic.

7. If your child rides a bike to school, check it for proper equipment: reflectors (front, rear and sides), warning device and working headlight. Also, be certain the bike is in excellent repair and your child knows and observes "Bicycle Rules of the Road." Remind him or her to use frouser cuff guards when riding and to lock the bike when it is not in use.

MRS. SCHWARTZKOPF HOSTS PINOCCHLE CLUB
Mrs. Agnes Schwartzkopf was hostess to a meeting of the Pinocchio Club Thursday night, at which members observed the birthday of Libby Lombardy and presented her with a gift.

Winners at games were the hostess, Leona Parente, Irene Preter and Grace Henrich. Others present were Margaret Richardson, Vera Carey and Irene Argelan. Mrs. Carey will entertain the club at its next meeting Sept. 16.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION at Madison High School is held Thursday afternoon in preparation for this week's Wednesday opening of the 1976-77 school year. Standing at center is Assistant Principal Arthur Carter, explaining basic operations of the school to the new underclassmen. Standing at left is Principal Richard Corbin.

LEARNING TO LAMINATE Don Hargrave of 4th Street in Madison, Virginia Washington (center) of College Street in Venice and Callie Mickels of East St. Louis are laminating materials for elementary school students at a Teacher Corps Project workshop held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. All three are teachers in the Madison school district.

Funding for health care data, training

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been named the recipient of a $45,000 grant from the Illinois Board of Education to support a community health care program.

Andrew J. Kochman, acting president of the university, said today.

Funds from the grant will be used to compile and distribute two health care resource handbooks and to conduct a training program for employees and volunteer workers in health care agencies.

One of the handbooks, "Consumer's Guide to Health-Care Services," will contain information on available health care services in Madison and St. Clair Counties in Illinois, as well as a listing of St. Louis area services frequently used by Illinois families.

Purpose of the booklet will be to assist consumers in their selection of the health care services that will best serve their families, John Robinson, staff assistant in Science Awareness and the Supplemental Instructional Program at the university, said. The reference booklet will provide low-income families with information about what services are available, where they can be found and what it will cost the family to use them. The book will include information on nursing services offered to the public, medical care, mental health assistance, counseling, therapy of all types, transportation to and from hospitals and clinics, financial support, baby and/or invalid attendants, educational classes pertaining to health and other services.

Information on free and low-cost health care services provided by religious, educational and fraternal organizations will be included.

The second handbook, "St. Clair and Madison Counties Health Care Services," will contain essentially the same information but will be written and distributed on an inter-agency level.

With cooperation and coordination between the various agencies, delivery of health care services to families within the surrounding communities will be improved, Robinson predicted.

The program will include training of para-professionals in home health care. Students will be trained to provide needed health care and supportive services to sick or disabled people in their home surroundings.

Home care services include caring for children and the handicapped, ill or elderly persons, planning and preparing nutritious meals, marketing and light housekeeping. The duties also include carrying out instructions of a physician or nurse when necessary.

Home care services are viewed as an alternative to hospital, nursing home or other institutional care. With sufficient home care, many patients will be able to remain in, or return to, a home environment that may be psychologically therapeutic and relatively less expensive, Robinson said.

THEFT OF AUTO
The black vinyl over yellow 1971 Dodge Charger two-door auto of Kenny Nolan, 2213 Orville Ave., was stolen from the 2000 block of Missouri Avenue, during the weekend. Nolan said he was working on the auto and left the keys in it while he went into a house there for a few minutes and when he returned, the auto was missing.

Notices by Oct. 1 on student records

Measures to prevent misuse of student records and insure their accuracy and relevance will be implemented in full in all Illinois public schools during the 1976-77 school year.

Rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education were officially in force last March 24, but they won't be fully operative until two final provisions become effective during the coming year.

By Oct. 1, schools must notify students and parents of their rights concerning the records.

Notices should explain the types of information contained in permanent and temporary student records, the right to copy and inspect records, the right to control access to and release of information from records, procedures for challenging the contents of a student's file, and the types of persons, agencies or organizations permitted access to student records without parental consent.

Schools must also meet a deadline of next March 24 for the review of records to verify entries, correct misleading or inaccurate information and eliminate out-of-date and irrelevant data.

The rules and regulations are an outgrowth of efforts dating to 1974.

In the spring of 1974, allegations that federal agencies and officials had invaded the privacy of citizens spawned concern over the kinds of records kept on file by government institutions.

Legislation to prevent abuse of school records and other files followed. On Jan. 4, 1976, President Ford signed into law an amended version which provided the starting point for state legislative activity.

The result in Illinois was a School Student Records Act enacted last September. As provided by law and State Board of Education regulations, all records are classified either as permanent or temporary.

Permanent records contain basic identifying information (name, address, birthdate, etc.), academic transcript (including college entrance exam scores), attendance and health records, and a record of information released from the file.

Additional information may include honors and awards and extracurricular activities. Temporary records consist of family background data, intelligence and aptitude test scores, psychological evaluation reports, disciplinary information and other facts not required in the permanent record.

Parents have the right to inspect and copy both permanent and temporary records, and students can check facts required in the permanent record.

Parents have the right to inspect and copy both permanent and temporary records, and students can check facts required in the permanent record.

Other features of both the records act and the state regulations govern release of information in emergency situations, written notification concerning the kind of information released and to whom, procedures for hearing challenges to record entries, and enforcement.

Willful failure to comply with any of the provisions is considered a petty offense.

Persons subject to any abuses in connection with student records handling may seek court action to collect personal damages or to obtain court-ordered relief from the abuses.

Heavy demand for loans from SIUE Foundation

More than 600 students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville received financial assistance from the SIUE Foundation last year, according to Charles Schweizer, director. Short-term loans accounted for the largest number of students requesting financial aid. Short-term loans are interest-free and must be repaid in 30 days. Loans range from $10 to $50.

During the year, 554 SIUE students borrowed $34,261 from the Foundation and repaid $33,583. According to Schweizer, there are 19 short-term loan funds, amounting to $50,764 in available monies.

Students who take advantage of the short-term loans are those who need funds for unexpected emergencies, including transportation to campus, unexpected illness expenses, and for the purchase of classroom materials and books, according to Thelma Thompson, financial aids adviser in the SIUE Student Work and Financial Assistance Office.

Long-term student loans were second in demand by the SIUE students. With 51 funds established in this category with the Foundation, a total of 34 students borrowed $7,845 during the past year. During the same period, $5,799 was paid back to the Foundation, Schweizer said. Almost $100,000 is available in the long-term loan category.

The SIUE Foundation also provides 14 scholarship and grant funds with a total of $12,995 available for student use. During the period from July 1975 through June 1976, there were 21 students receiving $3,363 to help them with their educational expenses, Schweizer said.

Long-term loans allow a longer repayment period. Payments on the loans begin 10 months after the borrowers graduate or cease to be full-time students at SIUE. To be eligible for a long-term loan, students must display a need.

Since 1969, more than $31,992 in Foundation loans have been made to 4,576 students attending SIUE. During the same period, $275,000 has been repaid. According to Schweizer, $11,764 has been transferred to an uncollectible status, meaning a 3.54 per cent loss.

TIGHT SQUEEZE for worker inside a coke oven to lay brick. He is relining one of the 61 ovens in Granite City Steel's "C" battery. The battery of ovens is undergoing extensive repairs and is scheduled to be down until late this year.

Parts being made for new coke receiving car system

Work is under way on components of the new system for controlling coke ovens at Granite City Steel.

The components are being built at Cleveland and in St. Louis, and will be assembled on the site here.

Portions of the system, including the receiving car, are being fabricated and assembled at Atlas Car & Manufacturing Co., Cleveland. Coke receiving boxes, which mount in the receiving car, are being put together at the Continental Boiler Works, St. Louis.

The system was invented jointly by three members of the Granite City Steel management team—Dr. Donald Cairns, vice president; Dr. John Mandia, director of environmental control; and Joe Burroughs, manager of environmental control.

It consists of a one-spot coke-receiving system in which the coke car remains stationary as the coke is pushed into it from an oven, rather than moving—as it does now to evenly spread the coke along the length of the car.

A specially-designed device distributes coke in the new receiving car, and a movable hood over the coke guide keeps smoke from escaping. Drawings have been completed for associated work which will be necessary in the coke plant to accommodate the new system, such as locomotive repair pits, diesel gas station, modification of the emergency quenching station and main quench station, and installation of piping.

Components will be shipped to Granite City Steel in as complete a form as possible, and the final assembly will be done in the field. The scheduled start-up date is June 30, 1977.

The system was approved for construction by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

It is part of an agreement between Granite City Steel and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, earlier this year in which the local plant will spend an estimated $17,500,000 to control emissions from its coke ovens as well as from the plant's basic oxygen furnace shop.

New projects ok'd for Nameoki grant funds

Funds for an addition to the Long Lake fire station, a tornado warning system in Arlington Heights, and the State Park Fire Department and more fire plugs were approved by the Citizens' Community Development Advisory Committee of Nameoki Township, the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors was told Monday night.

The committee was reorganized at the request of Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell and was asked to find a new use for $63,226 in Community Development grant funds appropriated for Nameoki Township by Madison County.

The previous committee had earmarked the funds for a community center building, but Whitsell said he did not believe land could be purchased and a suitable building constructed for $63,226.

He also noted the committee would have to be reorganized since the former committee contained some town board members and a new law prohibits board members from serving on township Community Development advisory committees. The new committee met last week and submitted its recommendations to the town board, which approved them Monday night.

New uses for the money, subject to approval by Madison County Community Development office, include $6,000 for a tornado warning siren in Arlington Heights, $20,000 to aid the State Park Volunteer Fire Department, $55,000 for an addition to the Long Lake fire station, and $2,226 for new fire plugs.

The fire plug appropriation was divided equally between the Long Lake and State Park Districts, with each receiving $1,113.

Upcoming concerts and lectures to be held in conjunction with the Cultural Events committee, include: The Young Vic, Oct. 14, an SIUE theatre production; The Paul Winter Consort, Oct. 21; The Raymond Johnson Dance Company, Nov. 12; Keith Stapp lecturing on marijuana reform; and Pablo Cruise, Nov. 4.

The Cultural Events committee also will be presenting, in connection with the SIUE music department, four informal concerts. All concerts will be held in the University Club dining room, with seating around tables in a nightclub atmosphere. Coffee and specially prepared desserts will be served by candlelight.

Desserts will be prepared to complement the four programs of Viennese, English, French, and American cuisine.

Elsewhere on campus, the Community Involvement Project (CIP) at SIUE, in conjunction with the Office of Student Activities, will be sponsoring the Fall Senior Citizens Fair, on Friday, Sept. 10 at 9:00 a.m. according to Paul Rost, fair chairman and graduate assistant in sociology.

"It will be the eighth fair in a series for the elderly residing in the St. Louis metropolitan area," he said. "The event will include information on services and benefits and displays of arts and crafts."

There also will be representatives from different agencies to answer questions which arise about commodities the elderly use in everyday living," he added.

In December, the theater and dance department will present Hans Christian Andersen's "Caraval." There will be showings on Dec. 2, 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11 at 8:15 p.m., and on two Sundays, Dec. 5 and 12 at 2:30 p.m.

Also on Dec. 5, the department of music will perform Handel's "Messiah."

More information on any of these events may be obtained by calling the University Information office at 692-2729.

Truck tax deadline is Tuesday

Tuesday is the deadline for the owners of most large trucks, buses and tractor-trailers to file a federal highway use tax return, Form 2290.

"The tax generally applies to single unit trucks weighing 13,000 pounds or more, to truck tractors weighing 5,500 pounds or more, to trucks of 9,000 or more pounds equipped for use in combinations, and to buses with a taxable gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds," Ira S. Loeb, IRS district director, said.

"The tax year for the highway use tax begins July 1 and runs through the following June 30. For vehicles placed in service after July, Forms 2290 must be filed with the IRS Service Center serving the vehicle owners by the last day of the month following the month a vehicle is used on a public highway for the first time," Loeb added.

Form 2290 and further information on the proper filing of the federal highway use tax returns can be obtained at any IRS Office. IRS Publication 349, "Federal Highway Use Tax," contains detailed information on the subject and is available free.

WALLET, $100 STOLEN

A wallet containing $100 was stolen from the purse of Christie Evans, 4901 Kirkpatrick Homes, in the living room of her apartment between 5 p.m. and 10:10 p.m. Monday. The victim said she left her apartment unlocked while visiting a neighbor for a few minutes and the wallet disappeared.

For new singers and prospective members the group has scheduled a "Singer-Bringer" night on Wednesday, Sept. 1, at 7:45 p.m. at the Methodist Church in O'Fallon.

How to harvest, store silage

By DAVE FISCHER
Agricultural Adviser
Harvesting your corn crop as silage will give you the greatest amount of total digestible nutrients. It is one of the easier crops to ensile, but certain principles should be followed to prevent excessive losses in harvesting and storage.

The moisture content of the whole corn plant should be about 65 per cent for best ensiling and maximum yield of digestible nutrients per acre. At this moisture level, the kernels will be fully dentured. A few lower leaves may have dropped off, but this small loss will be more than offset by the increased weight of the grain.

Ensiling corn silage in tower silos at above 70 per cent moisture results in seepage and a loss of digestible nutrients. Excess moisture also causes poor fermentation.

Chop the silage finely (one-quarter to one inch lengths) to allow denser packing in the silo. Use silage distributors to obtain a uniform density. Fill the silo rapidly to reduce the amount of time the silage is exposed to oxygen. Rapidly eliminating oxygen from the ensiled material favors the development of acid-forming bacteria rather than molds and yeasts.

Match the silo size (diameter and height) with filling capacity and feeding rate for structures that cannot prevent the entrance of oxygen between filling periods and between feeding periods. A non-oxygen limiting silo should be filled in one day if possible, but certainly within two to three days.

The feeding rate from such silos should be at least two inches from the exposed surface per day during cool weather and three to four inches per day during warm weather. This will prevent spoilage of the silage exposed to oxygen.

A late harvested or frost-killed corn probably will be less than 50 per cent moisture at ensiling time. Corn ensiled too dry may heat to temperatures above 100 degrees and protein digestibility will be reduced.

Excluding oxygen through fine chopping, dense packing and rapid filling, and maintaining the silo in good condition to obtain an airtight seal will reduce heating.

There may be some drought-damaged corn made into silage in some areas. The feed value of drought-damaged corn silage will likely be different from average corn silage. Corn lacking ear development will probably be higher in crude protein but lower in carbohydrates (energy). A feed analysis will be needed to wisely balance animal rations using drought-damaged corn silage.

Nitrate content of drought-damaged corn silage may be high enough to be hazardous when fed as the only feed to animals. Nitrates accumulate more in the lower stalk portion of corn. So to reduce nitrate content in corn silage cut the corn eight to ten inches above the soil surface. Nitrates are higher in younger plants so delaying harvesting will also help.

Rain will mobilize soil nitrogen and corn may increase in nitrate content following a rain. If nitrate toxicity is feared in drought-damaged corn, delay harvesting silage following a rain.

The ten highest producing herds in Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association in July are owned by Vernon Becker, Waldo Keilbach, Henry Zoelzer, Vernon Hiltz, Paramount Farm, Inc., Marvin Stutz, George Daiber, Vernon Warnecke, Jim Beane, and Eugene Meffert.

The herd of Vernon Becker was high for the month with 1.71 pounds butterfat per cow per day. The Becker herd of 40 cows averaged 40.7 pounds milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.75.

Completing 305 days lactation with a record of 680 pounds or more of butterfat was a 7-year-old cow in the herd of Eugene Meffert with 732 pounds butterfat and 18,370 pounds milk; an 8-year-old cow in the herd of Ronald Huegen with 677 pounds butterfat and 19,273 pounds milk and a 3-year-old cow with 61 pounds butterfat and 12,351 pounds milk.

LUKE 21:10, 11: Then said he unto them, "Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and great earthquakes shall be in diverse places, and famines and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven."

These words were written nearly two thousand years ago. They are precisely the words of Jesus Christ himself. The followers of Christ wanted to know the signs that would precede His coming again to earth to establish God's government over all the earth. His followers today believe fulfillment is near.

We have only to look at the nations who are nuclear armed and have the potential literally to set earth on fire, the increase of earthquakes, not only in number, but the alarming volume of damage being done. The tragic inventory of death by starvation shows the experts that worldwide famine is here now and it is here to stay.

Whatever else we think of these signs we must surely know that we cannot long escape their touch upon our own lives. You will feel the effect soon.

Jesus said when these things begin to come to pass lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh.

Will you believe him? Will you, today?

Consumer booklets available

Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd Ill.) has announced the availability of the latest edition of the Consumer Information Index through his Washington office.

Rep. Price explained that the Index is a catalogue listing of over 250 selected federal consumer publications. Included are booklets on a variety of consumer products and consumer-interest subjects, such as budgeting, food purchase and preparation, health, home maintenance and energy.

There are also special interest sections dealing with recreation, travel, leisure and a section devoted to booklets of interest for older Americans. "All publications listed in the Index may be ordered from the Consumer Information Center in Pueblo, Colo.," Cong. Price said.

"The majority are free of charge, while others range in price from 25 cents to $3.

"Particularly in these present days of rising costs, I believe it benefits every one of us to know as much as we can about stretching our consumer dollars. The publications listed in the Index are a good way to start."

The Consumer Information Index and publications order form may be obtained by writing to Congressman Price at 2469 Rayburn Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

History, beauty, variety in state

Conjured-up cameos of eagles soaring effortlessly through a pale western sky might make most people think the noble bird of America is only found in arid Utah or Wyoming.

Or above the serpentine canyons of Idaho.

Not true, at least when you travel to the rugged hills and dense forestland of southern and southwestern Illinois.

In addition to an ever-changing landscape, a geography that blends water and land into a variety of delights, the state also tempts the traveler with an abundant supply of wildlife.

The graceful eagle lives in the Illinois southland, riding thermal currents as if he were scanning some horizon in the Rocky Mountains.

"We've got about 40 of them down here," says Steven Frick, manager of the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge near Carbondale.

"Although they don't nest in this area—they fly north—anyone coming down during the winter months should have more than a good chance of spotting them."

Proving that Illinois is not only flatland, Crab Orchard's 43,000-acre system includes several lakes which annually draw noddies from the entire Midwest.

Visitors to the outdoor recreation area can sample a few local secrets with a ride on the Crab Orchard-Egyptian Railroad. The retired steam locomotive departs from Marion on a scenic 15-mile route.

For a good introduction to typical Southern Illinois scenery, tourists can visit Giant City State Park. The 3,100-acre park is located a dozen miles south of Carbondale on Route 51 and features unusual geological sites.

Tent and trailer camping, picnic areas and native stone shelters are available for visitors. For overnight stays, try the lodge and dining room, or one of a dozen rough-hewn cabins.

Giant City State Park received its name from the huge arrangements of sandstone blocks which sit scattered throughout the area as if they were remnants of an ancient community.

Perpendicular stone walls, seemingly fashioned by prehistoric hands, lend a bit of mystery to a native Southern Illinois riddle. Other rock formations seem as if they once served as "forts" or protective structures. Experts say, however, that the stone structures may have been used by early Indians as buffalo traps.

Differing geologically from the Illinois further north, the Giant City region is an extension of the Little Ozark Mountains.

Northwest of Crab Orchard and Giant City's woodlands, nudged against the shore of the Mississippi River, is Fort des Chartres State Park.

Once the bustling site of France's most powerful military outpost, one that controlled the entire Mississippi Valley frontier during the early 1700s, Fort des Chartres is a lasting reminder of Illinois' rich colonial heritage.

Today you can see a custodian's quarters and museum which have been erected on the original foundation of the old fort.

A nearby guardhouse chapel and gateway complete the picture—enough so that you can easily imagine what life must have been like during the fur trading era of the 18th Century. To add spice to your historical revelry, a brass six-pound French cannon is fired each Saturday and Sunday at 1 p.m. during the summer.

Also located in the Mississippi Valley is Pere Marquette State Park, Grafton.

Built near the point where the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers merge, Pere Marquette Park is a sprawling, 8,000-acre outdoor wonderland of bristling bluffs and woodland.

The recreation area is named after Father Jacques Marquette, the French missionary who first explored this region in 1673.

A large white cross near the park entrance alongside Route 100 marks the point where buckskin-clad Father Marquette and Louis Joliet first entered the raw Illinois wilderness.

Hiking, horseback riding—there are fifteen miles of open trails—camping and even a swimming pool highlight the park. A massive stone lodge and seven guest houses complete the picture, making Marquette Park a convenient and relaxing get-away location.

Although Illinois state parks run the gamut in outdoor and indoor facilities, historical tidbits and grand scenery, the "land between the river" is dominated by the vase woodlands of the Shawnee National Forest.

Covering almost nine counties with a blanket of hills, wind-etched ravines and rock crags, the Shawnee National Forest stretches nearly 100 miles from the Ohio River to the Mississippi River. Over 500 campsites are located within a dozen separate recreation areas.

One popular spot on the 240,000-acre Shawnee Forest map is the Garden of the Gods. Located a bit south of the frontier settlement of Old Shawneetown, Garden of the Gods offers a spectacular display of dramatic rock formations formed by nature's art over 200 million years ago. Although limited number of campsites is available, the Garden features a more than adequate network of nature trails.

After weaving through the narrow ravines of this Shawnee Forest site, you might try a visit to Shawneetown on Route 13. According to some, the little settlement once refused to give a bank loan to the fledgling community of Chicago on the grounds that the Lake Michigan village "would never amount to much."

If lakes are your pleasure, the southern part of this state has some of the largest found in the state.

Carlyle Lake, north of Centralia, offers 26,000 acres of open water.

Nearby Eldon Hazlet State Park shares the Carlyle shoreline and features an additional 3,000 acres of camping and hiking facilities.

Crab Orchard Lake and its neighboring duo of Devil's Kitchen and Little Grassy Lakes provide almost 10,000 acres of boating and fishing fun.

Wayne Fitzgerald State Park's 3,000 acres are enhanced by Rend Lake. The 18,000-acre waterway is a haven for everything from bass to walleye and northern pike.

Nature's magic touch hasn't deprived Southern Illinois of some valuable historic locations. Located between the strategic Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, the heavily wooded southland served as a teasing magnet for frontier explorers and adventurous fur traders.

Dreams of gold thought to be hidden in the hulking Mississippi bluffs also served as a conduit for romantic European wanderers and speculative settlers. The Pere Marquette Home State Memorial, located near Ellis Grove, serves as a reminder of Illinois' colorful beginnings. Mirroring the typical architecture of colonial France during the 18th Century, the Menard home was built early in the 1800s and served as the dwelling of Illinois' first Lieutenant governor.

Completely refurbished, the home is open to visitors. It features several authentic colonial pieces.

A short distance from Menard's rambling riverside house is Kaskaskia, Illinois' first capital.

Enshrined in a tiny brick building is the famous "Liberty Bell of the West."

As a gift from King Louis XV to his pioneer settlers in the New World, the historic bell features a crack similar to that of its eastern cousin.

The bell still sounds its knell each July 4 even though it is 11 years older than the national shrine in Philadelphia.

Kaskaskia's history began when Father Marquette built a log church there in 1675. A few years later, the village grew. It soon dominated the commercial theater of the Illinois wilderness, at one time commanding an undisputed role as cultural center for all that lay between Canada and the Gulf Coast. The town also served as the first Illinois governmental center.

Alongside Route 40 here is another example of Illinois history—this one reaching back 1,600 years. Within a radius of one and a half miles are situated 50 prehistoric earthenwork mounds built by prehistoric Indians.

What is now Cahokia Mounds State Park was once a religious center for early Indians in the Midwest. The park's largest mound is the largest man-made earthen structure in the Western Hemisphere.

Even today, after centuries of wind and rain, the massive bulk measures 1000x720 feet and has a height of 100 feet. Covering 16 acres, Mound is three times the size of the Great Pyramid in Egypt. Archeologists estimate it took 1,000 men tolling for three years to complete the mound.

Nearby is also the oldest house in Illinois. Believed to have been constructed shortly after 1737, it was the home of Captain Jean Baptiste Sauvier, the builder of Fort des Chartres.

Now called the Cahokia Courthouse State Memorial, the home was once a governmental seat for a portion of the Northwest Territory.

The Church of the Holy Family in Cahokia is another dusty reminder of Illinois' rich history. The present structure was built in 1799.

Despite the natural process of age, the church's massive walnut beams still seem sturdy enough to last another 300 years.

Further south and near the Mississippi and Ohio River confluence at Cairo is the Thebes Courthouse. Located between the Horseshoe and Union County Conservation Areas, the old legal center overlooks the Mississippi from a steep bluff.

Old and rare books are displayed in the museum and records indicate that General John Logan once spoke there in favor of the Union.

The courthouse episode claim to still another historic event—the imprisonment of the famous slave, Dred Scott.

Scott's trial, following a brutal stay in the Thebes dungeon, proved to be a landmark decision which affected human rights and the political groundwork for the Civil War.

Following the Ohio River north from Cairo, the visitor can sample another curious page from Illinois history. Cave-in-Rock State Park, east of Elizabethtown, was once a site of illegal activity following the Revolutionary War.

Outlaws once used the shallow cave along the Ohio River as a headquarters for their felonious endeavors.

River pirates also used the present day park location as a haven, preying upon unsuspecting river travelers who
